TAX ELECTION SET MAY 16

POLITICAL SCENE

THOMAS J. CALLAN TO SEEK POST AS SUPERVISOR FOR NORTH COUNTY

Thomas J. Callan, Pioneer San Mateo county businessman, today announced he will be a candidate for the San Mateo county board of supervisors from the first district. He filed his nomination papers March 5.

A resident of Colma, Callan has been a leader in county affairs for the past 30 years. He is presently chairman of the San Mateo County Harbor Commission and trustee of the Jefferson Union High School District.

Pledging to carry on a people's campaign, Callan said, "I am seeking a seat on the board of supervisors for only one reason—to build the county for the present and future generations."

He said he will seek election on the following constructive, progressive program:

RAPID TRANSPORTATION:

The greatest bottleneck to the development of the county is the lack of adequate highways. This results in daily traffic jams and, what is more important, hinders development of industry, residential districts and recreational facilities.

Callan proposes to help solve the problem by a network of highways running generally east and west throughout the county. Such a system of roads would give residents quick access to the already existing north-south highways.

The cross roads would allow development of the thousands of acres between Bayshore Freeway, El Camino Real, Skyline Boulevard and the Coastside highway. They would also result in helping to solve the present problem of jamed north-south routes and prove of great assistance to civilian and military defense and preparedness if a state of extreme emergency arose due to war or a natural disaster.

As for the present problem of the flooded coast highway, Callan advocates immediate action to relocate the road. He is now studying the various plans, and will present what he believes is the best solution later in his campaign.

RECREATION & PARKS:

Development and maintenance of recreation facilities is a pressing problem. Callan offers a two-fold plan for its solution.

The county may expedite the parks and recreation program by the simple means of putting county prisoners to work. Callan says there are from 150 to 200 men now idle, who might be employed in constructive labor during their time in prison.

He explained a detail of prisoners could quickly clean and maintain the county beaches—a section of the county which being improved and properly maintained could prove of great value to the recreational needs of the residents of the county.

These same prisoners could be employed to build much needed shelters along the beaches and in the parks, and generally would be a source of useful labor. Prisoners would receive a nominal wage to assist their rehabilitation on release from jail. Callan points out this would be a direct method of saving the taxpayers thousands of dollars and at the same time build the county recreation and

A. J. GAGGERO ENTERS RACE FOR SUPERVISOR

Daly City Councilman Calls For Planning

A. J. Gaggero, popular Daly City councilman and former mayor, announced today that he will be a candidate for Supervisor from the First Township, the post now held by the veteran Tom Hickey, who is retiring from public office.

The 43 year old Gaggero, who was born in San Mateo county and who has been active in public affairs since 1935, responded to the urging of friends and associates throughout the county to enter the supervisorial race.

Announcing that he intends to file his nomination papers next week, Gaggero said, "Having lived in San Mateo county all my life, I have seen the area grow from a sparsely populated agricultural area to its present size and importance. I believe that

San Mateo county has only started to grow, and that with the proper planning we can encourage industrial development which will make this county truly the best place to live in northern California.

"My roots are in San Mateo county and I feel that my experience in the field of public service, both on the city and county levels provide a background which enables me to represent the First Township as supervisor in an efficient manner."

Gaggero, who lives with his wife and three children at 6 Cavour street, Daly City, has operated an insurance brokerage business at 7477 Mission street for more than 20 years.

Third Term

Widely known and respected throughout the county he has served as vice-chairman of the San Mateo county civil service commission for more than six years and is now serving his third term as president of the San Mateo County Fair association.

First elected to the Daly City council in 1942 by an overwhelm-

Westlake School Landscaping Hit By Lack Of Funds

School Nurse Says More Help Needed

Mike Callan, chairman of the Jefferson elementary district board of trustees, told an interested audience at last Thursday's meeting just why it is impossible to do a complete landscaping job at the new Westlake school playgrounds.

The reason is simple. Lack of funds. Callan told anxious parents, who are unhappy that their children are required to slip and slide on the barren field of sand and mud, that the state has only allotted so much money, and therefore can only handle the basic flood control, all-weather area and planting at this time.

That seemed to be that, and the board moved on to other business.

The trustees signed the notice of completion on the Westlake school, and Mrs. Helen Cheatham, trustee, moved the board accept the completion of the school as of February 26. Callan seconded.

Approval was given for engaging Eckbo, Royston and Williams for the landscaping plans on the Colma site. They will draw up plans for a fee of $900.

Miss Gattuccio, school nurse, reported on her work and the conditions at different schools. She also made a request for additional help, especially the services of a school doctor to handle the eight schools.

The board discussed civil service standings for the classified employees, but shelved the matter until a later date, due to the fact they did not have the opportunity to go through the material presented to them.

The trustees accepted the completion of the roofing on Jefferson school. The work was completed by General Roofing Company and inspected by Robert Waller.

School Problems To Be Discussed Soon At Panel Session

Experts Will Answer Questions From Floor

An important panel discussion on school district administration and related problems will be held March 12 at 8 p.m. in the Broadmoor Community Center, under the auspices of the James L. Snell unit, Parent-Teachers Association.

All citizens in this area interested in the education of their children have been urged to attend this meeting, and to participate in the public question period which will follow the discussion.

Questions to be answered by the panel members—all recognized gathered during the year by the PTA legislation committee, and represent informational needs felt by a majority of parents.

Moderators Named

Mrs. J. M. Foley and Mrs. Gregory Davis, of the 17th district, will act as moderators for the panel. Tentatively scheduled to serve are

YOUR HIGH SCHOOL

Reader Raps Public For Failure To Support Teen-Age Events

March 2, 1952

The Editor
Dear Sir:

I have always felt proud of public response in Daly City to civic affairs such as the annual May Day Parade, etc., however there is one great laxity I feel should be brought to the attention of everyone. Last Friday night, February 29, a group of students put on a very fine play, "The Miser," at the high school. This play was well advertised with signs in nearly every store window in town—yet the audience was very small. That auditorium should have been filled!

Those who attended the performance will agree, I am sure, that it was well worth their while. It was a very funny comedy. The acting was excellent and everyone who saw it must realize the long hours of hard work which went into it. The costumes were beautiful, and expensive. The wigs worn by the players were rented, and this too, was costly.

Expenses

The play was given for the high school students at two day-time assemblies, at no charge, and Friday night's performance was the only way in which money could be

B'moor Residents Defend Their Homes

Property Owners Group Head Says Stoneson Checked Damages

Editor:

The past few weeks letters, articles and pictures have appeared in THE RECORD relative to the erosion in Broadmoor Village. Undoubtedly, many of the residents of the area have had cause for great concern about these conditions, and it is not our position as directors of the Broadmoor Property Owners Association to defend either the tract developers, or the officials of San Mateo county.

The directors have, however, received many phone calls asking that both sides be given on the erosion problem in Broadmoor Village.

Immediately after the first heavy rains of the latter part of 1951, many people began to feel the ravages of soil erosion on their property to such an extent that it was questionable whether their homes would survive the winter. Most of those having erosion problems called upon the directors of the association, asking for assistance in obtaining some remedial action.

The directors of the Broadmoor Property Owners Association have recourse to only two sources—the San Mateo county engineer and Stoneson Bros., developers of the tract. In most cases both of these parties have been very cooperative in attempting to alleviate some of the problems besetting the homeowners. For the help rendered by the county engineer, and Stoneson Bros., the directors are mose grateful.

Unfortunately, a few sections of Broadmoor are still attempting to have their problems corrected, but it is not within the scope of the Broadmoor Property owners Association to render any direct aid.

At the height of the recent rains, the directors of the association were called upon by homeowners to render some assistance. The Stoneson Bros. were contacted, and at a cost of several thousand dollars to themselves, they corrected all but two of the problems presented to them. The two remaining problems are still being argued by the developer and county officials, as to responsibility. The results are still pending.

In fairness to the people who have had their problems corrected, we ask that you publish pictures that reflect not only a corrective action in the area, but in some case an improvement.

We are sympathetic with the people who have been injured, but at the same time we restate that as directors we are in no position to judge the merits of any

COUNCIL MEETS MONDAY NIGHT

The city council is expected to set March 25 as the open hearing on the Westlake zoning issue at their regular meeting Monday, March 10.

The Public is cordially invited to attend. The council meets at 8 p.m. in City Hall, 75 Wellington avenue.

CANDIDATES

Ed Mooney

Joe Verducci

Follow the interesting city council race this year by reading THE RECORD. On page 3 will be found statements by Councilman Ed Mooney, his running mate Joe Verducci; and all other candidates' statements submitted this week. To be well informed, to vote intelligently, be certain to follow these weekly statements in THE RECORD.

COUNCIL TO MEET WITH RECREATION GROUP MARCH 18

City council members will meet with the Recreation Commission Tuesday, March 18, in an effort to iron out wrinkles in the present parks program, THE RECORD learned today.

Evident discord between the two bodies was revealed in this paper two weeks ago, when it was noted the parks program has suffered for lack of cooperation.

"I am confident this can be straightened out to everyone's satisfaction," Councilman Ed Mooney said today.

THE RECORD could not learn whether this would be an open meeting, although it will be held the same evening the Recreation Commission usually meets. The Commission meetings are open to the public.

The Derby

Val Loses Sartorial Crown

Consider the plight of our local Beau Brummel, "Hard Hat" Val Balbi, who lost his famous topper to the vicissitudes of fortune when the same hat was "totally wrecked" by a passing truck.

No, Val wasn't in (or under) said hat when it was ignominously deposited by a vagrant March breeze under the wheels of a passing gas buggy.

However, Val is somewhat sad and downcast these days 'cause who is Val without his famous topper? Just another nonentity—that's all brother.

(Well not quite, as it is Val who heads the local sanitation collection department here.)

So, all you good people, if you can find another "hard hat" for Val, please leave same for him at THE RECORD office, and keep our good natured Val from a nervous breakdown.

Schools Ask Hike

A joint election of the Jefferson elementary and Jefferson high school to increase the tax rate will be held May 16, THE RECORD learned today.

The important election will be held the same day voters choose one member for the Jefferson elementary school board and two for the high school board.

Decision to hold the joint election was made at a meeting of the two boards last week.

The elementary school district will ask for an increase of 60 cents. The present maintenance tax levy is 90 cents per $100 assessed valuation, and if the election carries the new tax rate will be $1.50.

The high school will seek no increase over the present maintenance tax rate. In their case it is merely a request that voters again pass a 60 cent levy which they approved several years ago, and is now in effect, but by law must be renewed.

H. Z. Weibel, superintendent for the elementary schools, said the request has to date received the approval of two Parent-Teacher associations, and many civic leaders. Similar support has been pledged to the high school's bid to maintain their tax level.

An increased enrollment, plus increased costs, has necessitated the request for funds, Weibel said.

"Should either measure fail, the local school system would face almost certain disaster," Weibel said. "It is imperative we have more money, or the children will suffer."

Stanford Hannah, superintendent of the high school, sounded a similar plea. "While the high school has just last year cut its tax rate, the necessity of maintaining the present low level tax is a must."

The present maintenance tax rate for the high school is $1.26, which will not be increased by renewing the 60 cent levy.

LOCAL WOMAN DONATES 28th PINT OF BLOOD

One Daly City woman really believes in donating blood to aid our wounded service men in Korea—who need it so desperately.

Mrs. O. L. Wakefield, mother of two, Monday made her 23rd donation at the Irwin Blood Bank. Every three months, regular as the mailman, Mrs. Wakefield makes her trip to the bank.

Her spirit is contagious, for her husband now has made eight donations.

What is her motive? Well, Mrs. Wakefield has the satisfaction of knowing that 28 wounded soldiers on the bitter Korean battlefield have a chance for survival because of her contributions.

Army Bagpipers To Give Concert Here

Blood Donors Will Be Asked To Give

In an effort to encourage more blood donations for the armed forces, the noted bagpipers of the Sixth Army, stationed at San Jose and Mission streets in Daly City at 10 a.m. Thursday, March 13.

The concert is sponsored by the American Red Cross and the San Mateo unit of the San Francisco Junior League, and will be a prevue of a larger afternoon production, when the bagpipers will join bands totaling 106 pieces from the Twelfth Naval District and the Pacific Marine Corps.

This massed formation will assemble at Huron and Mission streets at 1 p.m., and will march down Mission to Hillcrest, where the bands will present another concert.

To be included in the parade will be a sound truck loaned by the army recruiting service, the Red Cross Bloodmobile, and Junior League volunteers, who will distribute blood donor pledge cards.

A sign-up table will be staffed from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. at the Bank of America, and appointments will be made by the San Mateo County Blood Bank for all those signing pledge cards.

The highway patrol and local police will cooperate during the concert and parade.

Main Westlake Route To Have Name Changed

The main highway through Westlake, now known as the Alemany extension, soon may be called Knowles avenue.

Mayor Paul Green suggested the name be changed to conform with the second leg of the street which now serves as a direct route from Westlake to the "top of the hill."

The council is of the same opinion, and instructed the mayor to contact the state division of highways for the needed name switching.

Look Sharp For Man With Tractor Wheel

The mind of man moves in mysterious circles, according to the philosophers. Police, who are inclined to become somewhat philosophical themselves after years of observing the foibles of human nature, agree completely.

Just what anyone would want with one tractor wheel in Daly City is a matter for speculation—but evidently someone did.

Walter Haller, 420 Citrus, has reported the theft of said wheel from a vacant lot on Citrus avenue.

Although somewhat puzzled, the resigned police are trying to track it down.

COUNTY ASSESSOR TO BE OPEN FOUR SATURDAYS FOR VETS

For the purpose of accepting veterans' claims for exemption, the County Assessor's office will be open on the following Saturday mornings from 8 to 12: March 8, March 15, May 17, May 24.

While the period for filing is from the first Monday in March to the last Monday in May, veterans who are eligible for the exemption are requested to file early after March 3.

Claims for exemption may be mailed by those who have filed in this County before.

park system.

In conjunction with this program, he advocates a regular prison farm where prisoners may raise their own food. This would eliminate a great part of the county jail bill for food.

Also, he favors immediate action to purchase and develop the acreage for the Butano state park.

TAXES:

Callan, as a successful businessman, says he is in a position to judge how high or low the tax rate should go to allow funds for development of the county. He is especially interested in keeping the tax rate low now that the assessed valuation of most county property has been upped by approximately 50 per cent. Callan said he will outline a complete program for the county budget and tax rate later in his campaign.

EFFICIENT GOVERNMENT:

With an eye to eliminating waste in favor of efficiency, Callan believes the board of supervisors should work in closer harmony with other county and city officials. This, he says, will result in a saving to the taxpayer and help formulate an integrated plan for the development of the county as a whole.

In step with this measure, Callan favors having the supervisors meet at least once a week instead of following their present bimonthly schedule. This will allow more economical, efficient county government, Callan says.

Similar cooperation between the county board of supervisors and the San Francisco Supervisors may mean lower water rates for all county residents. Callan noted most of the county is dependent upon San Francisco for water, and he believes harmony might result in lower rates.

Another major development of such harmony would be the extension of the San Francisco transportation system into the northern sections of the county, now hard hit for proper transportation facilities.

COURT HOUSE:

Because of the pressing need for more office space, immediate steps must be taken to improve the county courthouse situation. If said from an engineering and architectual standpoint, Callan believes that the late Colonel Edmond's plan of removal of the old domed structure and the addition of a multi-story building in its place would solve the problem. He believes that this plan could be put into effect in the near future and it would eliminate the necessity of constructing another costly building with the duplicate facilities in the unforseeable future. Further, he says that this county office would be housed under one roof thereby resulting in greater convenience, economy and efficiency in county business.

BAYSHORE FREEWAY:

Completion of Bayshore Freeway and an increase in the personel of the California Highway Patrol for policing of the state highway in the county are immediate needs for the protection of life and property. Callan states that he will work and cooperate with State and County officials in accomplishing both of these objectives.

In conclusion, Callan said his program is aimed at only one thing . . . development of San Mateo county. He said other points in his improvement program will be forthcoming soon.

Westlake Again Gets Local Water Supply

The city sounded the second, and it is hoped the final chorus of the Westlake water song today: "On again, off again."

Dan Andersen, city administrator, said all of Westlake is now receiving water from Daly City. For the past three months the local water has been piped in, but turned off at intervals when it was found the pressure was too great for the Westlake pipes. Andersen says the problem is now solved, and that area will no longer have to depend on San Francisco for water.

School Problems To Be Discussed Soon At Panel Session

Mrs. George Beanston, of San Francisco, PTA official from the second district; a representative of the county superintendent of schools' office; a man from the district attorney's office, and a member of the Stanford University faculty.

Questions to be considered by the panel include:

Schools—What constitutes a school district? Who determines the necessity for school construction and the location thereof? Are schools built to serve the immediate needs of the locality, or are they located where they are likely to get the most use over a long term period?

Board of education—How constituted? Elected for how many years? Specific duties of trustees?

Superintendent — Duties and powers, limitations, policies, qualifications.

Principals—Who hires? Duties and responsibilities. Authority, and to whom responsible.

Teachers—Who determines ability? What is tenure, and how does it operate? Are salaries high or low in this district?

Education program—Who determines what shall be taught, and how? Is there any general outline of work for elementary schools which parents can use as a guide in helping their children?

Many More

These and other related and pertinent questions will be studied and answered by the panel authorities.

Prior to the panel discussion, Miss Antoinette Cattuccio, school nurse, will deliver a short address. In addition, regular business of the PTA will be considered and handled.

Mrs. W. H. Beck, chairman of the PTA legislative committee, has cordially invited all interested citizens to attend this discussion.

ing majority, Gaggero has twice served as mayor. It was during his tenure as mayor that Daly City annexed the large Westlake sub-division area which has doubled the city's area and nearly doubled its population.

Tremendously popular in the northern end of the county, Gaggero was twice reelected as councilman. In 1950 he was returned to office again, topping other candidates by a two and a half to one margin.

Daly City boasts one of the finest municipal water systems in the state and Gaggero has been a constant advocate of economy in government, resulting in the city's tax rate being among the lowest in the entire state among municipalities of similar size.

The supervisor candidate first entered public life in 1935 when he served on the county grand jurky. He is also president of the North San Mateo County Sanitation district and has served as a Daly City Fire Commissioner, as well as being a Director of the San Mateo County Chapter of the American Red Cross and treasurer of the Children's Health Home (formerly known as the Preventorium) of San Mateo county.

Pledging his candidacy to a program of efficiency and economy in county government, Gaggero stated he would announce his election platform shortly.

raised to cover expenses.

The Lion's Club is to be commended. They came as a group and were well represented. I think they have set a good example for other organizations in Daly City to follow in the future.

Adults are all too eager to criticise the teen-agers when they do something wrong, but when a group of 15 students (the actors) together with a large number of others who had the jobs of scenery designing, costume making, stage properties, etc., put in so much time and effort to make their play a success, the public is not interested!

Backing

I feel that our high school students should have the backing of their community. It must have been very discouraging to the director and the participating students to see so small an audience. I, personally, would like to see this play given once more, with the auditorium filled.

I know this is a lengthy letter, but I hope it will serve its purpose in that the next time the high school students put on a play, it will be a complete sell-out.

Younger Is GOP Choice For New Congressional Seat

J. Arthur Younger, 58-year-old San Mateo banking executive, will seek the new congressional seat from San Mateo county under the banner of the GOP.

He was selected last week by 240 Republicans composing the Republican fact-finding committee.

Judge Daniel J. Creedon, favored choice before the meeting, lost to Younger by 27 votes. The final tally was 129 for Younger, 102 for Creedon.

In accepting the endorsement Younger said:

"This is not going to be an easy election. This is only the first step. If Mr. Taggart (Harold Taggart, the Democratic choice for congress) continues, I will challenge him to a debate . . ."

There is some question that Taggart will continue as the Democrat's candidate, as he may be in line for appointment as successor to the late Dr. Charles S. Morris, San Mateo junior college president.

Lake Merced Post Welcomes Members

As a result of the last membership drive, five new members were welcomed into Lake Merced Post 9921 Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The new members are Mr. Stanley Nygowski, operator of the Castle Garden Grocery on School street; Mr. Dennis P. Dunn of 707 White street, Colma; Mr. A. Lyle Cuykendall of 624 Larchmont drive, Colma; Mr. Philip Hargrove of 1143 Nimitz drive, Colma, and his brother Edwin Hargrove of 904 87th street, Colma.

Commander Woods obligated the new members and the Post welcomed them into their organization.

Following the nomination of Post Officers, Lake Merced Post 9921 will have its election of officers on March 20. The installation of officers will take place in April at which time the general public will be invited to attend.

Service men and ex-service men with overseas service are still cordially invited to join Lake Merced Post 9921, Veterans of Foreign Wars. For further information on how to join an organization comprised of overseas veterans, contact Mr. Lawrence Magoon, 519 87th street, Colma 25, or call any evening, PLaza 5-4267.

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

BRICE YOUNGMAN had a bitter outlook on life. Since boyhood he had known a feeling of injustice. It wasn't fair, he reasoned, for some to have plenty and others (like himself) hardly nough. It wasn't just for some to have to work and scrimp and never know freedom from worry, while others enjoyed life to its utmost without care or fret or labor.

It is said that if a man wishes hard enough for anything it will be his. Brice Youngman gave the adage a sound rating in his mind, when, just before he reached the age of 30, the thing happened. It happened overnight. He was advised that half a million dollars was coming his way, because a certain little piece of pasteboard, for which he had invested $6.00, had figures written on it that corresponded with those appearing on a similar bit of pasteboard, which had been drawn from a box after a great horse race.

It was hard for Brice and for Beth, his wife, to grasp the significance of this news. He had worked hard all his life and had built up a fairly decent business as a local garage owner. His instinctive business training stood by him, therefore, when the half a million dollars was delivered into his hands. He invested a good share of it in staple stocks and opened up a bank account on the rest.

Mr. and Mrs. Brice Youngman then journeyed to New York where smart shops and up-to-date tailors began to eat up the bank account. In the midst of their orgy of buying, Brice took time out to purchase tickets for a round-the-world cruise.

A week later the joyful Youngmans set sail. They visited every continent on the globe. They met all kinds of people, hobnobbed with the idle rich, spared no expense. In short, did the thing up brown.

A year and a half later they set soil for New York. They were eager to get home. Somehow Brice hadn't found the idle rich as interesting as he thought they might be. They didn't get the kick out of life he thought they should. When he analyzed the situation he decided that these people had never known anything different, hence couldn't appreciate their good fortune. Folks like himself who had worked hard and knew what it was to scrimp and save, could enjoy idleness a lot more than the idle. Or could they? Here was a problem that Brice couldn't settle to his own satisfaction. The fact that his bank roll was gone, that he had had to send home for more money, that he'd have to return to his old business wasn't as disturbing as it might be. In fact he was anticipating getting back to the old grind with a good deal of relish.

Was this attitude a matter of sour grapes? Now that his money was gone was he sorry or glad? Was he sick of wealth and luxury and idleness, or was he just trying to convince himself that he didn't care?

They reached New York on a bleak, windy day in March, and took a train for the small town back in the hills where Brice had once owned a garage. Things looked good, but familiar things always look good when one has not seen them for some time. The garage was still there, doing business at the old stand. The little cottage where Brice had lived most of his life was still there, awaiting their arrival.

They entered and looked around and knew a sense of security and gladness. They wandered from one room to the next, pulling up curtains, opening creaking doors, removing dust-protecting sheets from the furniture. At the rear door was a stack of magazines and hand bills and a letter or two left by the mailman. Brice sat down at the kitchen table and began to go through the pile.

THERE WAS A LETTER from the broker who had invested his money before leaving on the cruise. He read and his heart leaped.

"Beth," he called. "Beth!" And when Beth came running he flourished the sheet.

"Beth, we're rich again! Rich! Do you hear! That money I invested before we went away has doubled, tripled itself!"

Beth sat down weakly.

"We can begin all over again," Brice cried. "Start out on another cruise. Have everything! Go every place! And never have to do a lick of work! Isn't it wonderful?"

"Wonderful," said Beth, staring at the table. "Marvelous!"

Brice left her there and went out. He wanted to look the town over and talk with old friends.

Beth sat at the table for a long time. Later she got up and began setting the house in order. When Brice came home the rooms had the old familiar, homey look. Beth came from the kitchen, saw him standing there in the middle of the floor.

"Brice,—I—I've been thinking. Wouldn't it—that is—I'd sort of like to stay here awhile before going away again. It—it—seems more natural for us."

"Why, sure, honey, we'll stay here awhile." He took a long breath. "It's kind of hard to do nothing but travel around after you've been working all your life. It doesn't come easy. You have to be born into it."

Beth's eyes were moist. "I'm glad, Brice. I sort of hated to suggest it. I was really a little disappointed when you told me about getting that money. I—I—well, I'd sort of looked forward to staying here and living like we used to. I know it's asking a lot. I know you hate to be poor and to work—"

But Brice suddenly began to laugh.

"Why, you know, honey, I was thinking that very thing about you. I just now did something I was almost afraid to tell you." His eyes began to twinkle. "I leased the old garage back again for a period of five years."

Noise Or Carbon?

Silence-seeking motorists carry matters somewhat too far occasionally, declares the National Automobile Club. This applies particularly in the case of valve tappet adjustments. To iron out the last tiny click in the valve gear, they have the closest kind of adjustments made. The effect is designed to induce the formation of carbon as well as to reduce the engine's power output. Silence is all right, but engine experts are convinced that it should not be carried too far. Their warning is worth heading.

Cleaning Car Engines

It is a good idea to have the engine and chassis of your car steam-cleaned about once yearly, says the California State Automobile Association. Many garages are equipped to do this and the charge is nominal.

The original name of the city of Las Vegas in New Mexico, according to the National Automobile Club, was Nuestra Senora de los Dolores de Las Vegas or Our Lady of Sorrows of the Meadows, the patron saint of the town.

Impact Of Collision

When an automobile that is being driven at sixty miles per hour collides with some stationary object it strikes with the same impact that it would if driven off the top of a nine-story building, reports the National Automobile Club.

Square Dance Instructor's Course Offered

Commencing Thursday evening, March 13, at 8 o'clock, and contining for at least eight consecutive Thursdays, Red Fuller will conduct a Square Dance Caller's Instruction Course, embodying all of the basic fundamentals and principles of calling and teaching the American Square and Round Dances.

He has had adequate training under the able leadership of such notable teachers as Dr. Lloyd Shaw, Ed Gilmore, Bob Osgood, Ralph Maxheimer, and many others at various Caller's Institutes during the past four and a half years, and is justified in trying to pass on to the novice what he has learned.

All matters covered in the course, which includes Philosophy of Square Dancing, it's History and Development, Standardization of Style, Calling and Teaching Techniques, Group Organization, and Caller's Workshop, will be mimeographer and presented to each pupil on completion of the course, together with more than 100 square dance calls, patter, breaks, openers and closers, and the most popular rounds for beginner's classes.

All sessions of the class will be held at the Brad Sonderman Rumpus Room, 275 La Prenda avenue, Millbrae.

For further information and enrollment, write or call "Red" Fuller, 1 Birch Lane, Sharp Park, Calif., Flanders 5-2577.

Community Chest Board To Meet

President Glen O. Smallcomb of the Community Chest of San Mateo county annouced today that the first official meeting of the new Board of Directors will be held next Monday evening, 8 p.m., March 10, at Community Chest headquarters, 117 South B street.

Action will be taken on previous proposals to amend the Chest By-Laws as follows: That the official Board will consist of 36 members instead of 30 and three Vice Presidents instead of one. Also, because of the increased activities of the Chest the Board will meet eight times a year instead of four.

Nominations to add the new Board members and the two new Vice Presidents have already been made and will be voted on next Monday.

Smallcomb said other matters to be discussed are committee appointments for the coming year.

INTERESTING MEETING SLATED

A meeting of great importance to every local resident is scheduled Tuesday, March 18. We speak of the get together of the city council and the Recreation Commission to iron out problems in the $101,000 parks program.

At that time it is expected several pressing problems will be given a full airing, and it is hoped the long delayed completion of the parks will be pushed through. As noted here earlier, the Recreation Commission has fought against great odds heightened by the council's apparent apathy, to bring the parks program to its fulfillment.

It is unfortunate, however, that this meeting was not held at least a year ago...it might have saved the park for the southern district of Daly City. Thanks to rising costs, the park, originally scheduled on the $101,000 bond issue, will not be completed with those funds. True, the city has arranged a sharing plan with the Colma school, but this is far from the original program.

We are inclined to believe that park, and for that matter, the others, would have been completed had their been some constructive planning instead of the apparent hit and miss program put down by the city. Such planning was called for over a year ago by the old Recreation board, now replaced by the Recreation commission.

This meeting, therefore, is promising, in that it may spell an end to a program utterly devoid of planning.

It is to be hoped this isn't simply a political move, brought on by the coming city elections, to take "the heat off" the council.

But even more important, we would be sorry to see a certain prominent recreation leader given the gate as a scape goat for the blunderings of the city. We understand such a move is now in progress, very hush hush, but there just the same.

He is the man who has long plugged for planning, but for two years has been shuffled from councilman to councilman. However, we don't believe this will come out until after April 8. Seems a member of the Recreation Commission, an aspiring councilman, is his staunch supporter and will do everything in his power to block shoving this leader out the back door.

WESTLAKE AND DALY CITY

One of the delicate questions in any candidate's campaign is going to be the problem of Westlake vs. Daly City. Although they are one and the same, a feeling has grown that Westlake is a separate section, requiring special consideration and spending.

We have a suspicion that many a candidate will be making promises to the west side of Junipero Serra without letting them be known to the east side, and vice-versa. This we brand as false and inexcusable, even to win public office. The results of such a campaign can only be to split the sections more than they are.

What is needed is a realistic framework, in which both sections will be made to understand that to prosper they must live and work as one.

Westlake residents must realize they have to share the tax dollar equally with the older section. Conversely, older Daly City must understand Westlake residents are entitled to needed improvements such as parks, a water reservoir, fire and police protection, and other less major items.

Woe to the candidate who doesn't allow the promises of the left hand know what the right hand is doing.

We suspect the men who will be elected will be those who treat the problem fairly, promising to both sections what is theirs; and not going overboard with the tax dollar one way or the other.

This is one time where a little restraint might be in order. A negative plank, perhaps, but a needed one, especially if Daly City is to emerge a coordinated whole.

THE BROADMOOR FLOODS

It simply goes to prove there are two sides to every question and hassel. That is about the only way to sum up the turn of events in the Broadmoor flood situation, as covered by this paper for the past four weeks.

We endeavored to bring aid to certain residents who complained of receiving the old "pass the buck" routine when they tried to get help in checking flood damage to their homes. To this end, we have published pictures and stories pointing up their problems.

Now it appears many a Broadmoor resident is in friendly disagreement with its policy. We use "friendly" advisedly, as our relations with the other Broadmoor element have been cordial and, we believe, reasonable and fair. They assert Stoneson, builder of the homes, is doing everything in his power to meet the situation. They say he is spending many dollars and hours to clean up the flood mess and hold it in check.

We are happy to report this, and just a little proud that our articles and pictures may have prompted Stoneson to move quicker than usual.

However, the point of this statement is that we endeavored to give both sides of the question...and if we failed to represent Stoneson fairly, it is due to a lack of that organization's interest in public relations. Fortunately, some residents are not so bashful, and have come forward with flags flying for their homes and community.

And in conclusion, we will continue to print what we believe will forward the public's interest. It is hoped we will be forgiven for sometimes being over zealous in this campaign.

RED CROSS FUND DRIVE OPENS

With the simple plea "Answer the Call," the American Red Cross this month makes its annual appeal for funds to carry on its local, national and international work.

Here, surely, is a call we must all answer generously and with a full measure of warmhearted approval. For the call of the Red Cross is the call of suffering humanity everywhere—of human beings in need or distress across the street or across the nation. It is a call which Americans have never failed to answer.

It is particularly appropriate, too, that the Red Cross should make this appeal, because few other organizations are so much a part of American life. The Red Cross is not an organization apart from the people of this country. It is made up of the people themselves.

When it acts, anywhere, it acts in your behalf—doing what you would do if you were at the scene of disaster or at a soldier's side in Korea or Europe. It is you who makes its great work possible by your gift of time and energy and money.

And it is you for whom it exists—no matter who you are, no matter where you live. For Red Cross service is available to all, freely and without question, on the simple human basis of need alone.

Answer the call of the Red Cross this month when you are asked to support its great humanitarian work. Answer as generously as you can.

ALL IS WELL WITH VAL AND DEAN

Hats off this week to a man who lost his hat, and to another who has never lost his head, even over a parking meter.

We speak first of Val Balbi, local sanitary engineer whose cheerful smile and antics have made this a better town in which to live. He has lost his standard hard topped derby, but promises to secure another. We hope he latches on to one fast, for who would recognize this congenial maestro of the sanitary disposal wagon without a derby?

The other gentleman is one familiar to every meter curser. He is Officer Dean Woods who would give, and has given, anyone and everyone a tag for over parking. There is many a driver who has had unhappy conversations with this gendarme, but there is not one who would question Dean is the most honest cop this side of the one patrolling the Pearly Gates. And underneath all that officialdom is an honest desire to help the community, as demonstrated in his giving valuable time to teaching local first aid classes.

We mention these two gentlemen for no other reason than to refresh this editorial page. It is indeed pleasant to occasionally point out that all is well, instead of out of kilter. Too bad we don't have more men like Dean and Val... but, then, what would we write about?

Council Candidates Speak

Following are statements by the eight candidates seeking two seats on the city council April 8. THE RECORD takes an impartial stand on this particular political question and endeavors to bring the readers a fair summary of the candidates' platforms. However, after this week the candidates will be asked to limit their statements (with headlines) to no more than 10 inches. This is necessary to conserve space for other vital stories of interest to the public. Two candidates, running as a team, will be considered as one for the purpose of the aforesaid statements. Press deadline for the previously mentioned candidates' statements is Tuesday noon of the week of publication.

Tromborg - Wilson First To Offer People A Program

Platform Based On Local Families' Needs

A constructive 10-point program for building a greater Daly City for the people was issued today by Thomas Tromborg and Del Wilson, candidates for the city council.

The two well known Daly City men are the first to offer an honest, progressive program aimed to meet the needs of local residents.

"We believe the people want action, not promises," Tromborg said. "And because we are of the people—not professional politicians—we hope to make this a better town in which to live for you, your family and friends."

Both Tromborg and Wilson are long time residents of Daly City, and have proven to be successful business men. Consequently, their program is based on realistic understanding of finance and civic need.

As representatives of the people, Tromborg and Wilson outlined the following platform:

TRANSPORTATION: Wilson is especially familiar with this pressing problem, as long before the council election he spearheaded a movement to bring jitney service to Daly City. He is still working on this plan. However, he and Tromborg believe the long range solution is a privately operated bus system for the greater Daly City area.

"It is foolish to continue promising San Francisco service out here," Tromborg said. "They are having enough trouble with their system without worrying about Daly City. The chances of extending their service beyond its present point is negligible.

This is not to discount the San Francisco service, which we will continue to plug for; but it is time we stood on our own feet."

Tromborg promised a further development of this transportation solution later in his and Wilson's campaign.

RECREATION: There is a pressing need for more parks and maintenance and development of present facilities, Wilson asserted. He and Tromborg are pledged to greatly expand the parks program to include a real park for the southern area—not a simple extension of the Colma school grounds—and a park for Westlake. These are parks which should be developed immediately, not in the "distant future."

Also, there is a crying need to complete a parks program which should have been finished over a year ago, but continues to drag on and on for lack of proper administration. The need for such things as recreation buildings, lights, and maintenance of present parks is too well known.

As for the Community Center building, both Tromborg and Wilson favor its completion—but only after the people have been given a clear run down as to what happened to the $296,000 they originally voted for its construction. They also believe it can be finished for considerably less than the amount of the bond issue rejected by the people several months ago.

TAXES: Wilson points out that it will require close supervision of the tax situation to prevent them "secretly" rising due to the recent 50 per cent across the board increase of assessed valuations. He pointed out it is not necessary to actually raise the tax rate to "hit the people." Both Wilson and Tromborg favor a sane, sensible tax schedule which will meet the required needs of the community but will not be so high as to compensate for blunders due to poor administration and lack of efficient operation.

SIGNALS: Tromborg and Wilson pledge to immediately work for the installation of needed signals near Jefferson high school; at School and Mission streets; at the main crossing of Alemany in Westlake; and on Hillside boulevard.

"Failure of proper traffic control at these points weekly results in numerous accidents, some of which have proven fatal," Tromborg said. "We realize this is a matter to take up with the state, but this is no excuse for the failure to have these vital signals installed."

COMMISSION GOVERNMENT: The need for a commission form of government is all too obvious, Wilson believes. He points out the city is too large to be properly administered by part time councilmen—as so proven in the past two years of regression instead of progress. He and Tromborg advocate appointment of impartial, well informed citizens to make up the following commissions: police, fire, planning and recreation.

Both men advocate giving these commissions "teeth" in order that they not only be advisory bodies, but have the power of limited action on vital matters. They believe this especially important for the police commission, so as to remove the police department from politics, and do away with a situation which last year saw 60 or more book makers operating here.

FIRE DEPARTMENT: The necessity for the immediate expansion of the full time fire department should be obvious to everyone, Tromborg said. He observed that unless more men are added to the force and additional fire houses built the fire rates here are bound to go up. Both men, however, praised the present force, especially the volunteer department.

PARKING FACILITIES: Tromborg and Wilson believe off-street parking should be provided for the principal business sections of Daly City. The advantage of this both to the businessmen and residents is all too obvious.

SCHOOLS: While local schools are not under the jurisdiction of the city council, Tromborg and Wilson assert the pressing problems for school quarters would be much easier to solve were there closer cooperation between the school boards and the council.

STREETS: The necessity of immediate action to repair and clean streets is quite evident as demonstrated by residents of one area who had to petition the present council to repair and clean the street in front of their homes. Tromborg and Wilson feel there are many streets sadly neglected, and point out the "top of the hill" should have a thorough cleaning at least once a day.

CAUCUS MEETINGS: Neither Tromborg or Wilson can understand why it is necessary to carry on the principal business of the city council behind closed doors. The caucus meeting, they feel, is a flagrant misuse of public trust, and advocate abolishing all such meetings.

"All our business will be conducted in public. We don't intend to make the important decisions behind the public's backs, and make a sham of regular council meetings," Tromborg said.

Concluding some of the major issues on which they hope to be elected, Tromborg and Wilson asserted they will explain their program more fully in the weeks ahead.

"We expect to see most of our program adopted by all the candidates, principally because we have pointed out the only way to good government. However, unlike the professional politicians, our promises are made in good faith—we intend to carry them out."

As neither of the men is receiving financial backing from vested private interests, they assert their whole hope for election is based on a simple formula—representation for the people. They are certain this will make up for extensive, expensive, often false, advertising campaign as forwarded by other candidates.

Narcotic Problem Topic Of Session

Representatives from Jefferson and seven other schools in the county gathered in Redwood City Wednesday and recommended a plan whereby the subject of narcotics would be taught in the coutny's high schools from the last part of the freshman year until graduation.

The recommendation was contained in a general summary of the recent narcotics conference held at Sequoia high school. The summary will be distributed to the participating schools.

The students advocated six steps to curb the increase of narcotics in this county, which included stiffening penalties for "pushers," making school misfits feel welcome, hiring full-time counselors, asquainting the student body with information on narcotics and its harmfulness, holding special narcotics conferences from time to time, and utilizing newspaper assistance in the high schools and the community.

Mooney - Verducci Stand On Record Of City Progress

Council Candidates Plug Recreation

Standing on his record and pointing out that things have been accomplished during his four years on the city council which were only promised, but never accomplished, by some prior candidates, Councilman Ed Mooney said today that he intended to stay on the job until his entire program of civic improvement has been completed.

Accomplishments

Among accomplishments during Mooney's term of office are listed city ownership of a modern, fully-equipped ambulance; street signs throughout the city; inauguration of a full time Fire Department; complete new mercury street lighting the length of Mission street; new traffic signals on Mission at San Jose avenue and at Market street; bond issues for expanded playground and community center facilities; replacement of dangerous curbs and sidewalks at corners throughout the city; 40-hour week for city employees; annexation of Westlake; extension of Knowles avenue to Junipero Serra boulevard; capital improvements to the municipal water system, and replacement of obsolete and worn city equipment with new equipment on a pay as you go basis.

To Be Done

"Objectives yet to be accomplished," the Councilman said, "include extension of public transportation facilities, either by the San Francisco Municipal Railway or by some new private company, additional fire protection and completion of the recreation program which has already been started.

"I have been studying the transportation problem for some time," Mooney added, "and the time has come when I believe we now have sufficient population to warrant additional service. To have attempted extension of service before there was enough population to put the service on a paying basis would have ben disastrous. However, I am confident that with the cooperation of public transportation officials we'll see some welcome changes in the very near future."

Mooney said he was confident that his running mate, Joe Verducci, with a profession background in education and recreation, would prove to be a very valuable factor on the next city council, and said that both he and Verducci were in accord on a program of planned progress for the benefit of the entire city.

Joe Verducci

A local boy who made good in the fields of education and athletics returned to the field last week as Joe Verducci cast his hat in the arena of city politics as a candidate for city councilman along with incumbent Ed Mooney.

Verducci, who grew up at 3262 San Jose avenue, where his parents still reside, went on to become one of football's great quarterbacks at University of California and since has devoted his time as athletic director at high schools and colleges. He resides with his wife and three children at 118 Wilshire avenue in Daly City's new Westlake tract. He served as a Lieutenant in the Coast Guard during World War II.

Changes For Good

"Having lived here a long time," Verducci said, "I can see the great changes and growth which have taken place since I was a boy on San Jose avenue, and I know it has taken a lot of hard work to accomplish the developments and improvements which have taken place. I think I can also see what still has to be done to make this the best residential area in the state."

Listing teamwork among school and city officials as one of the ways to provide recreational facilities for all age groups at the lowest cost, Verducci is pledged to devote all his experience in this field toward accomplishing the very best program possible, in all portions of the city.

He also promised to work diligently for increased fire protection services and for additional traffic signal installations where required for the protection of pedestrians.

Transportation

"I have talked with my running mate, Councilman Ed Mooney, and we are in accord concerning the widening of Knowles avenue in order to encourage wider distribution of public transportation. Whether it will be extension of S. F. Muny services or inauguration of private transportation facilities is an unknown factor at present, but nevertheless more transportation is our goal and I feel confident that we can accomplish it," Verducci said.

DeBernardi Calls For Candidates To Make Good

Says Too Many Fail To Keep Promises

Rapping candidates who make pre-election promises and then fail to carry them out, Micky DeBernardi, council candidate, today said he will carry out all his promises when elected April 8.

In a statement today, DeBernardi said:

"Campaign promises are made, and after elections conveniently forgotten. Looking back over the years can you honestly say that candidates you have voted for have kept their promises?"

"I promise you my campaign will be based on fulfillment of practical promises. I want what is for the voters, and best for the city."

"It's about time the city council got back to thinking about the little people who put them there."

"Many people have said to me: 'What good would it do if you elected . . . you would always be outvoted?' That is a pessimistic outlook on things. If you have this view, the only alternative is to move out of Daly City."

"If not, let's start fighting now for the kind of government we all want."

"We need someone on our council who will have the guts to fight for the voters. We need a man who can not be pressured by campaign backers."

"I believe I can fulfill the duties of councilman with honesty and with fair and impartial judgment on all issues."

Colma School Model On Display

A scale model of the new Colma school will be on display this week and next at the Bank of America in Colma, H. Z. Weibel, superintendent of schools, said today.

The model shows the present state of building, and points up how the over all structure will look when completed.

"We hope to begin work this summer on 13 more classrooms for the school," Weibel said. "This will bring the grand total to 21."

Estimated cost of the 13 additional rooms will be $540,000, most of which will come from state building aid fund.

When the whole school is completed, it will be used primarily for the 7th and 8th grades, and should abolish double sessions . . . at least temporarily . . . for the Daly City area, Weibel said.

The model will be on display later at the Bank of America branch on "top of the hill."

Civic-Minded Sponsors Support Dennis And Gross

Both Men Represent Labor And Business

Edward J. Dennis and Henry Gross, candidates for election to the city council, stated today they are proud of the 20 civic minded sponsors whose signatures appear on their nomination papers.

"These citizens have full knowledge of the years of good work Dennis has accomplished for Daly City, and the sincere desire of Gross to represent all of Daly City," a campaign spokesman declared.

Both Dennis and Gross have important and trusted positions in private life. Consequently, they have the background and experience needed to conduct city government in a business like, honest, efficient manner.

Tony Ricci, chairman of the citizens' committee to elect Dennis and Gross stated that both men will give the city everything it needs for development and growth.

"Men who will speak for themselves," Ricci said, "are deserving of the popular vote."

"Now that the polls will be open until 8 p. m. the average home owner and wage earner will have time to cast a vote to protect their tax dollars," Ricci said.

Both Dennis and Gross have pledged themselves to stop any unnecessary spending of precious tax dollars.

"As both men have a combined labor and business background, they are sure to be the favored choice of everyone, especially the average working man," Ricci concluded.

Launching a speaking program in which they hope to personally meet the majority of voters, Dennis and Gross will appear before the United AFL Committee shortly. Both are hopeful of getting the support of this important labor organization.

Take Inventory Of Your Driving

Last year, according to the California State Automobile Association, something like 37,500 people were killed in traffic accidents in this country. At the same time, over a million people were injured, some seriously enough to cripple them for life.

Most of these accidents—about ninety per cent of them—were caused by incompetent driving, and not by the condition of the road or mechanical failure of the car.

Take inventory of your driving and see if you're a top-notch driver.

From A Corner

By Bill Katz

Nothing excites more amazement in this writer than the lion-hearted gent who pops out of bed, shows a toothy smile, sounds a cheery word and embarks on a series of excruciating exercises.

We have it on good authority that such a breed does exist. As this type is as rare as the husband who opens a car door for his wife, we believe his eccentric motives well worth exploring.

The basis of exercise is threefold. The first, and obvious reason, is to build manly biceps and a chest that won't be confused with a stomach. The second is to issue a general challenge to the undertaker. The third reason, motivated by a sense of the dramatic, is to awe less muscular friends by nochalantly ripping a phone book in half. While the telephone company frowns on this practice, it is sure to elicit favorable comments from those less imaginative creatures who believe the phone book is for the single purpose of reference.

Many Types

There are as many types of exercise as there are excursions into the shoals of moonstruck romance. However, they all have the common denominator of contorting the body into a series of shapes designed to befuddle the original intentions of nature. Where man is doomed to grow plump and soft, the exercise fiends trip up fate by twists and bends tailored to build a slim tough exterior.

The iron bound good health advocates are easily separated from the masses who are willing to stroll through life by gradually extending their waist measurements. The athletic refugees from a rotund figure are violent to the point of insaity when it comes to counting calories and as irreverseable on the path to savage good health as women in their quest of men. While it is rare that these muscular oddities beat their chests, they manage to draw attention simply by their ability to eat corn with their own teeth . . . not a set of plates . . . at 65.

Opposed

It may be assumed we are opposed to morning exercise, or for that matter any exercise at all except for the power needed to lift the fork from the plate to the mouth. The assumption is correct, and based upon some years of surveying the end results of touching the toes 50 times without first downing a heavy breakfast.

Exercise, while it leads to large biceps, also is indicative of another muscular condition, usually to be found in the head. Devoting so much time to building the body, this type rarely has the time to feed the brain.

Also, we question whether exercise actually does prolong life or lead to a healthy state. Of our six uncles, five are now living. The sixth, an advocate of the muscular life, has been long buried. One morning, while going through a series of squatting exercises he slipped and broke his neck. His brothers, all past 70, are hearty eaters, drink like gentlemen, and thrive on black cigars and coffee.

This may be an isolated case, but it is quite enough for us. We advocate late rising and no exercise or cheery words before noon. We intend to grow old with a paunch, a sour disposition and free of exercise.

Continued city improvements to keep pace with growing population, economical government on a pay as you go basis, efficient service and a program of planned progress were also pledged by Verducci in support of his candidacy.

Annual Reports For Local PTA Associations Are Due This Month

Annual reports of local PTA associations throughout San Mateo county are due this month.

Forms may be mailed to Mrs. J. M. Foley of 521 Crescent drive in San Mateo by March 6, or copies may be taken on Monday, March 10, to sectional sessions of Seventeenth District California Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Local for the sectional sessions at 9:30 a.m. will be Jefferson high school. All unit presidents, district officers and chairman are expected to attend in their area, and interested unit members will be welcomed.

California Library week March 10-16 is being marked by special exhibits, programs, and open house. Schedules for the various city and branch libraries will be posted, or listed in local news releases. Peninsula authors and their books will be introduced, and library services displayed.

For the county free library Miss Clara B. Dills, head librarian and district home reading chairman, invites PTA attendace at the open house on Thursday, March 13, from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. at 842 Middlefield road in Redwood City.

THANKS TO THE EFFORTS OF THESE Girl Scouts and others like them, the cookie drive recently held here was hailed a booming success. LOCAL WINNERS

Four Colma School Students Take Awards In Recent Essay Contests

(Ed. Note: The four winning essays mentioned below will be published in THE RECORD in their entirety, with one essay to be printed each week.)

Two students at Colma School have won awards for essays submitted recently, and two others were given honorable mention.

Carol Ann Hansen, eighth grade student, won the county award for an essay on conservation, in a contest sponsored by the 17th District Conservation Committee. As a result, Carol Ann will visit the Mt. Shasta Plantation as the girl representative from San Mateo county.

Carol Ann selected as her topic, "Conservation of Trees."

Plaque Winner

Lane Calvin, a seventh grade student, won the annual Lincoln Essay Plaque for his school with his paper on Abraham Lincoln. This contest was initiated in 1931 by the Daly City Water Department. Young Calvin was a second place winner last year.

Two honorary mentions also were named, both eighth grade girls. First honorary mention went to Alice Richmond, second to Jackie Hansen.

Those serving as judges from the local units included Mrs. Mori, Colma unit; Mrs. Mullen, Crocker unit; Mrs. Brandt, James Snell unit; Mrs. Weibel, Hillside unit; Mrs. Ingersol, General Pershing unit; Mrs. Hiller, Westlake unit; Mrs. Cunningham; Woodrow unit.

Best Essay

Following is the winning essay written by Carol Ann Hansen, on tree conservation. Judging in this contest was based on attitudes, understanding and experiences in use of conservation practices, as well as development and handling of the subject.

"Conservation is something everybody needs to learn and practice. The people who don't obey forest regulations destroy many beautiful forests. These trees destroyed could have been made into homes, paper, telephone poles, rayons, medicines and many other useful things. Trees and fallen leaves prevent erosion which washes aways the top soil. In one forest fire, many men and animals could perish. All of this could be prevented with carefullness in using any form of fire in the woods.

"Many kinds of trees have other uses. Some serve as homes for forest animals and birds. The pine nuts in pine cones are food for squirrels; woodpeckers eat the nuts; and deer eat the foliage from low-hanging branches. So we aren't the only ones who depend upon trees.

"The Forest Rangers help to check fires. Without them, we would be minus many forests. So we should all cooperate with the rangers."

VFW Secret Pals Revealed At Meet

Secret pals for the past year were revealed during a luncheon meeting March 1 of the Lake Merced Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary No. 9921. The luncheon was held at the Eth-El-Bert Colonial Court in West Portal.

Each member brought a gift for her secret pal and revealed her name. Rose Fisher, chairman of the secret pal list, was presented a small gift by each member in appreciation of her services.

Those attending the meeting included Jean Cuykendall, Maryann Read, Ethel Diaz, Maryan Patey, Stella Magoon, Hazel Eagleton, Hilda Stettler, Estella Harding, Lorraine Monks, Dorothy Heim, Anita Woods, Viola Fontes and Rose Fisher.

The auxiliary met February 26 in the Broadmoor Community Center to initiate a new member, Ruth Casteel.

Two members, Rose Fisher and Hazel Eagleton, attended a 12th district meeting in Watsonville February 24.

Friendly Neighbor Club Holds Saturday Dinner

Members of the Friendly Neighbors Club met Saturday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Doyle, 160 Abbott, for a family-style dinner and evening of entertainment.

The group tries to hold a dinner once a month, with different members hosting the event. After Saturday night's dinner Mr. and Mrs. Ray Erbanus showed movies of a recent skiing trip and wedding celebration.

Those attending were Messrs. and Mesdames Al Caime, Jack Cambridge, Bill Gravatt, Owen MacNealy, Ray Erbanus, Ken VanAken, Sam Vickers, and the host and hostess.

New Aid For Blind Is Picture Subject During PTA Meet

"New Horizons for the Blind," a Technicolor film depicting the story of the camp for visually-handicapped children and adults, was shown at the meeting of the General Pershing PTA March 4.

Enchanted Hills is a permanent year-round camp for the physically fit blind and partially blind. It's purpose is to make their stay at Enchanted Hills a memorable experience through enrichment of mind, spirit and physical well being.

The meeting opened with the pledge of allegiance to the flag, led by the Brownies, brought in by Mrs. Clarence Sciaroni, Girl Scout leader.

General Pershing was honored by having as guests Mrs. William Harberts, Miss Alfia Belli, Mr. Harry Reidi and Mrs. Clara I. Sirex.

Mrs. Clara I. Sirex, president for the CCPT 17th District, also answered questions by the members.

The executive board meeting held February 28 at General Pershing discussed plans for a potluck luncheon to be given by the executive board members for the teachers of the school, the event to take place March 17.

Mrs. W. D. Derham and Mrs. John Sooman held a party for Mrs. Nelson's third graders, an award they received for bringing in the most salvage in the last salvage drive, which was quite a success.

General Pershing elected its new officers to take over the work for the oncoming year. They are Mr. Williams Tergis, president, Mrs. Hugh Smith, vice-president; Mrs. Kenneth Ryan, recording secretary; Mrs. George Day, financial secretary; Mrs. Clarance Sciaroni, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Keith, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Walter Atkins, auditor; and Mrs. G. L. Naylor, historian.

Representing General Pershing, Mesdames F. J. Prisco, A. W. Lauffenburger, M. Noe, Walter Atkins, and George Day were nominated delegates to attend the district convention March 20.

Annual reports were given by Mrs. W. H. Derham, Mrs. M. Noe, Mrs. Lyal Ingersoll and Mrs. George Freeland.

March 13, General Pershing will conduct another hot dog sale. This sale will enable the PTA to award another membership.

Local Girl Scouts Are In Midst Of Annual Fund-Raising Cookie Sales

The annual Cookie Sale of the Girl Scouts got underway March 1, and will continue through March 21, and local girls are hard at work trying to raise money in order to contribute to the worthy cause for which the funds are used.

The Girl Scouts are selling to neighbors and friends throughout the area. Through the cooperation of store managers, bank officials, clubs and other organizations, they are able to sell in designated locations around town.

Profits from this sale are used primarily to further develop camping of all kinds for Girl Scouts in this area. As an added incentive, troops receive a bonus for each case of cookies sold, thereby replenishing their treasuries and helping to carry on the various activities within the troops.

From funds raised through cookies sales Girl Scout councils in 1951 were able to offer outdoor camping experiences to Brownies and Girl Scouts at three day camps—Camp Mattrup in Daly City, Mills Meadow at Millbrae, and Woodhaven at La Honda, as well as at the established Camp Wasibo in the Santa Cruz mountains.

The communities represented in this joint venture are Millbrae, Lomita Park, San Bruno, South San Francisco, Brisbane, Bayshore, Colma, Daly City and North Coastal Strip.

Members of the Cookie Sale committee include the federation chairman, Mrs. A. H. Kammerer, of San Bruno, and four district chairmen, Mrs. George Windhurst, of Daly City, Mrs. T. F. Brunner, of Millbrae; Mrs. Frank Brown, of San Bruno; and Mrs. William Katsaros, of South San Francisco.

Neighborhood chairmen for the Daly City-Colma area are Mrs. Dorothy Waldvogel, Parkview; Mrs. Clarence Sciaroni, Peoria; Mrs. Wilbur Fradenburg, Colma-Broadmoor; Mrs. Charles Enlow, Westlake; Mrs. Charles Doty, Bayshore; and Mrs. Harry Nickerson, Sharp Park.

If the Girl Scouts in your neighborhood have not called on you, orders can be filled by calling the district chairman, JUniper 7-2332.

Park Correctly

Here's a safety tip from the California State Automobile Association: When you're parking your car on a busy street, look behind you for oncoming traffic, then back into the space at the curb. Learning how to park properly speeds up the flow of traffic.

Bayshore PTA To Elect Officers

Election of officers will be held at the next regular monthly meeting of the Bayshore PTA March 14, 2 p.m. in the school auditorium. The regular business meeting will feature the safety chairman and the children will participate. Refreshments will be served.

A luncheon was served to the faculty of Bayshore School by the members of the Bayshore PTA consisting of a crab salad, chiffon cake, coffee.

The annual rag drive was another successful achievement of the association. A better response from children and parents therefore a bigger and more profitable event than ever before was the result.

JUDGE SWEENEY CELEBRATES WITH HIS "FOUR ROSES"

Judge William J. Sweeney and his "Four Roses" were present in all their glory last Thursday night at the Club Casino where the city judge celebrated his birthday at a party.

While he is not letting out the number of candles on the cake, Judge Sweeney is not at all bashful about the "Four Roses" that assured the success of the party.

However, this particular brand of "Four Roses" is simply: Mrs. Rose Sweeney, the judge's wife; Rose Sweeney, the grandaughter; Margarie Rose Sweeney, another grandaughter; and Rose Ann Sweeney, the judge's daughter-in-law.

In addition to the Roses, Mr. and Mrs. Calway, the judge's sister and brother-in-law were also on deck. And, of course, his two sons, Bill Jr. and Raymond were around with their respective clans.

Folk Dancing Classes To Open

Two free beginners' folk dancing classes for adults are being started by the San Francisco Recreation and Park Department it was announced today by Mrs. Lydia Voigt, Supervisor of Drama and Dance for the Department.

One group will meet at 8 p.m. Wednesdays at Chinese Recreation Center, Washington and Mason streets, starting this week, and the other at 8 p.m. each Thursday starting March 13, at Glen Park Recreation Center, Chenery and Elk streets.

Mrs. Voigt urges everyone interested in learning to folk dance to plan on attending the classes from the beginning. Basic steps are taught at first and gradually the group advances to more difficult dances.

Irish To Honor Robert Emmet

The Irish Republican Clubs of San Francisco will honor the birthday of one of Ireland's most renowned patriots, Robert Emmet, with a dance and reunion of the Irish Clans in the Knights of the Red Branch Hall, 1122 Mission street, this Saturday night, March 8.

Invitations have been sent out to all the Irish organizations in San Francisco and the East bay to come to this special function for a ga ynight's dancing of the favcrite Irish numbers as well as the popular American dances.

The orchestra will strike up the first tune at 9 o'clock and there will be continuous dancing until 1 a.m.

Westlake PTA To Hear Talk On Floral Groups

The report of the nominating committee and election of officers will be held at the meeting tonight, March 6, of the Westlake PTA. The meeting will be a 8 p.m. in the Westlake Clubhouse, 95 South Mayfair avenue.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Audrey Eves of the Westlake Floral Shop. Mrs. Eves is a well known authority on floral arrangement and has lectured at numerous Parent Teacher Associations and clubs in the Bay Area.

Mrs. Eves will speak on "Indoor Floral Arrangement," and we feel especially fortunate in being able to have her with us as she is a most sought after speaker.

Mr. H. Z. Wiebel, superintendent of the Jefferson elementary school district, will also be present to explain the proposed increase in the tax rate for the Jefferson elementary school district which will be on the ballot in May.

Refreshments for the evening will be provided by the parents of Mrs. Lewis' and Miss Glasse' third grade children.

Women Of Moose To Hold Penny Dinner

The Women of the Moose, Chapter No. 739 under the direction of College of Regents Chairman Claire Keney will hold a Penny Potluck Dinner on March 13, before their business meeting.

The dinner will start at 6:30 p.m.

All co-workers of the Women of the Moose are invited to bring their candidates and attend the dinner.

Mid-Week Lenten Services Slated At Lutheran Church

The mid-week Lenten Services of the Lutheran church of Our Savior are held every Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

The sermon theme for Thursday, March 13, will be "Blessed are the Meek."

The pastor, the Rev. R. G. Konzelman, B. D., invites friends and neighbors of the members to attend these services. The church is located on the corner of Garfield and Junipero Serra boulevard. The sermon theme for Sunday, 11 a.m., March 16, will be "Sin, Man's Fatal Folly."

Sunday School and Bible classes are at 9:45 a.m. every Sunday.

Grace Presbyterian Church Lists Events For The Week Ahead

Sermon topic this Sunday at the Grace Presbyterian Church, Crocker and Winchester streets, will be "The Words of Loneliness."

Dr. William Harbert will deliver the sermon at the regular morning worship service, beginning at 11 a.m.

As usual, the Sunday school class opens at 9:45 a.m.

That evening the second session of Schools of Missions classes will be held from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. for all ages. Mrs. Alfred Runnells will be the adult leader, while Mrs. Arthur Benofsky will head the junior class.

Following is the calendar of events for the week ahead:

Monday, March 10—Board of Trustees meets at the church, 7:30 p.m.

Tuesday—Circle No. 2, with Mrs. E. Lindstrom as hostess, meets at the church at 1 p.m. At 7:30 p.m. Circle No. 3 will hold its regular meeting.

Wednesday—With Mrs. William Hassett as hostess, Circle No. 5 will meet at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. A. Westrom co-hostess, 399 Vista Grande. That evening, at 7:45, choir rehearsal, under the direction of Miss Marian Walker, will be held at the church.

Thursday—Circle No. 4 meets at the home of Mrs. C. Haaland, 178 Wyandotte at 1 p.m.

Friday, March 14, a St. Patricks party is to be held at the church at 7:30 p.m. The party will be sponsored by members of Circle No. 3. Mrs. Chet Tyner will be chairman.

"Behold, I stand at the door and knock."—Revelation 3, 20.

During the prenset Lenten season the Savior stands at the door of your heart. He comes to bring greater faith, greater hope, greater peace. He is knocking on the door of your heart. He is calling you. What will your answer be?

The Christ of Calvary is especially calling upon you to bless you, to give you the firm message of forgiveness, to increase your measure of peace and hope, to gird you for the days ahead, and to make you ever more His own through a stronger faith.

Topic Is Announced For Sunday Worship At Lutheran Church

A sermon by pastor Louis C. Marting on "What Christ Expects From You," from the Text: Mark 14: 3-9, will be given at morning worship at 11 a.m. Sunday in the Hope Lutheran Church, 839 Larchmont drive., this Sunday.

Sunday school will start at 9:45 a.m., with the lesson designated as "Jesus in Gethsemane."

An adult Bible class will be held Sunday morning, during the Sunday school period. Pastor Marting will lead this group in a study of First Corinthinans entitled, "Practical Christianity." All adults are invited to attend.

Sunday evening, March 16, at 7:30 o'clock, the Hope Lutheran Church will sponsor a new religious film entitled, "All That I Have Done." Produced by a professional cast in Hollywood, the film concerns an aging doctor whose financial management entangles him in jealousy, strife, and eventually into court, when he is accused of being mentally unbalanced. The pastor says this full-length feature will prove an exciting one for the entire family.

There will be no admission charge for this picture, which will be shown at the Broadmoor Community Center.

ITALIAN MISSION AT HOLY ANGELS MARCH 10 TO 16

There will be an Italian mission at Holy Angel's Church, 107 San Pedro Road, Colma, from March 10 to March 16.

The mission will be given by Father E. Grattarola, O.S.J.

The sermons will begin each evening at 7:30.

Flower Books Arrive

Free seeds and flower books will be distributed to customers by Joe Lewkowitz, Richfield Oil Co. dealer at San Jose avenue and Bepler street, it has been announced.

Lewkowitz said he had a limited supply of flower seed left, but had just received a shipment of books on wild flowers. The book has identifications of more than 40 different wild flowers which grow in western states.

In addition to gasoline service Lewkowitz provides motor tune-ups, lubrication, motor wash, ignition service and a car wash.

RINGER MANGLES DIGIT

Alice May Jones, of 24 Alexander street, was treated at Junipero Serra hospital Monday morning.

While doing the washing, Mrs. Jones caught her finger in the ringer. The results were painful.

32 Sign Charter For Ocean View Christian Church

Thirty two persons signed the charter of the Ocean View Christian Church last Sunday morning when the charter was officially presented for the first time.

Others will be given the opportunity to sign until Pentecost Sunday, June 1, after which an election will be held to select permanent officers.

Choir robes have been ordered for the youth choir and rehearsals will be held each Thursday night at 7 o'clock, under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Smith.

Services for Sunday, March 9 are as follows: Sunday School, 9:30 a.m., Sermon, by the pastor, 10:45 a.m. Subject, "What's Your Answer?"; Youth meetings, intermediate and high school, 7:30 p.m.

Male Quartet Scheduled For Sunday Feature At Winston Manor Church

The King's Men, a male quartet from the San Francisco Baptist College, will be featured during the Sunday morning worship hour, starting at 11 a.m., in the Winston Manor Community Baptist Church.

At 9:45 a.m. Sunday school will be held for children of all ages. At the same time, an adult Bible class will be in progress.

Both services will be held in Noble Chapel, Cyprus Lawn Memorial Park.

Evening service, at 7:30 p.m., will be held in the home of Ray and Bonita Mills, 15 Graystone Drive, Winston Manor. Pastor Richard E. Eggert, will speak on the subject, "Palaces of God."

A prayer and praise service will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday, with the place of the meeting to be announced at this Sunday's service.

Bethel Lutheran Slates Sermon On Desertion At Lenten Sunday Service

The Lenten Season brings a strong appeal not only to those who are faithful to their church and their calling as Christians, but also calls to those who are engrossed in the affairs of this life, and neglect the vital spiritual needs of the soul.

Sunday morning at 10:45 o'clock, at Bethel Lutheran Church, Alemany boulevard and Huron avenue, the Rev. Herbert P. Schroeder will speak on the subject, "Desertion." The choir will provide special music.

At the mid-week Lenten Vesper Service on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, the Rev. B. P. Wallschlaeger, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, will conduct the service, while the Rev. Herbert P. Schroeder will speak at St. Paulus Lutheran Church.

Italian Mission Begins In Colma Area March 10

An Italian Mission at Holy Angels Church, 17 San Pedro Rd., Colma, will begin March 10, it has been announced.

The mission, which will run through March 16, will be given by Rev. E. Grattarola, O. S. J. The sermons will begin each evening at 7:30 o'clock.

S. F. City College Stages Play

An intense, psychological drama, "A Guest in The House," will be presented by San Francisco city college Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, March 12 to 14.

The play is set in the suburban home of a fashionable illustrator and presents an arresting study in character description. The Proctors, having invited sweet Cousin Evelyn to share their happiness, live to wring their hands in anguish.

Evelyn's fiendish mind would have shocked the late Hedda Gabler.

Tickets may be reserved at City College, or phone JUniper 7-7272.

SMALL BLAZE PUT OUT

A lumber carrier at the Stockton Lumber Co., 6100 Mission St., caught fire in the storage yard Wednesday morning, and firemen were called to extinguish the blaze. Some damage to the carrier was reported.

The first California daily newspaper, "Alta California," was published January 23, 1849.

KATHLEEN NORRIS
Sinful Smugness

"THREE YEARS AGO," writes Gerald Fletcher, from Springfield, Mass., "I met the girl of my dreams. The woman, rather, for Isabelle is 26; I am 32. From the beginning a feeling sprang up between us, not only of love—and that was almost at first sight, but of an immense liking, a congeniality, a union of likes and dislikes. Our work brought us much together, Isabelle conducting a department for girls in the big institution of which I am assistant director. These first months of our friendship were the happiest of my life; I am a veteran, not much handicapped by an artificial knee, and have been deeply absorbed in a scientific work which I hope to have published a few years from now.

Happy Engagement

"Our engagement was an absolutely happy time, when I went to my girl's Massachusetts home, met her delightful family, and was warmly made welcome. The engagement was then announced and our plans made for a wedding last June. It was some weeks after that that Isabelle quite suddenly asked me if I had ever had any serious love affairs with other women; she said she must know everything, and that then whatever it was it should be forgotten and forgiven. She said that she had a horror of the immoralities now said to be so prevalent among adolescents, but that she could not remain in the dark about my past.

"I was hurt by her attitude, and told her that it could only disturb her to dig up the past, but she became agitated, and I saw that she had quite honestly thought I had nothing to tell. We had several distressing scenes, after which I told her a true story of one or two episodes of my first college year, and of a genuine attachment I had to a nurse, out in the South Pacific, a heroic, gentle girl who died of an infection from a shrapnel cut.

"Isabelle immediately broke our engagement, wrote her mother that I was not the sort of man that she could ever respect, or that she could wish to have as the father of her children. She returned my letters, the beautiful ring that my father had given my mother when they were engaged.

A Little Anger

Pride and a little anger helped me through this shock and change in my life; I could arrange things so that Isabelle and I did not often meet, and as the months went by I became attached—through loneliness, I suppose, for I never had noticed her before—to my landlady's daughter, a very quiet girl, whose fiance was killed in 1942, and who is a librarian. I have not led her to think I care for her, but some months ago she betrayed that she has come to like me.

"Now for the problem. This morning, while I was reading your article, a letter came from Isabelle. She has experienced a complete change of heart, she is sorry, she says she knows that men's lives are different from those of women, and that since poor little Rosy was killed in the war, I cannot restore my honor, as she puts it, by finding her and making her my wife. Isabelle's letter goes on to say that she is sure a few honest talks will set matters right and restore our old feeling for each other, but she ends with the warning that she must know everything now, and not expect any more shocks and surprises.

My dear Gerald, I say in answer, your letter leaves me no choice. Perhaps you have done Isabelle an injustice, although it does not seem so. But self-righteousness is a detestible thing, and anyone who thinks she has a right to question another about his past, his young mistakes, his natural emotions, will make a difficult wife. The smug serenity with which Isabelle proposes to probe into your soul, presently extending to you her benign forgiveness, indicates that you would always be to her a weak brother, to be helped and guided to her own heights of perfection. Just because a woman does not yield to early sex impulses doesn't mean that she hasn't equally serious faults.

One young wife I knew demanded to know everything her doctor husband's patients told him. When he laughed at her she grew angry, and told him that unless he answered her questions there would never be a baby in the house. They were married 16 years after that, until her death from cancer, and there never was a child. Isabelle would understand this perfectly.

In your place I would write Isabelle that you felt that your seeing each other would serve no purpose, and remain hers affectionately. And then take Goldie to the movies.

Colma PTA Fund Raising Campaign Hailed A Success

Mrs. Sanford Vickers Elected President

By MRS. JOHN C. WIESNER

The Colma PTA's fund-raising project—the Leap Year Fashion Show and Silver Tea—held last Friday, February 29, at the home of Mrs. Ramon Gomez, was an outstanding success—both financially as well as socially; a check-up to date revealing a profit of $136.91 for the afternoon's efforts.

The fashions (which were all made by the members) were most attractive and elicited many admiring comments from the guests. The rooms were tastefully decorated with a profusion of spring flowers, arranged by Mrs. George Bertucci. Mrs. Gomez acted as fashion commentator and introduced the following models: Jill Berlin, Sharon Carr, Barbara and Christine Casentini, Carolyn Dennis, Joanne Doyle, Arleen and Carol Hansen, Laurel Klaisner, Paul Levin, Ann and Margaret Mori, Lynn Offenbach, Martha Phelan, Sondra Stanghellini, Cathy and Dougie Urbanus, Jeralyn Vickers, and the Mesdames George Bertucci, Joseph Doyle, Jack Levin, William Klaisner, and Lewis Stanghellini. Delightful background music was provided by Mrs. John C. Jacobson at the piano.

Mrs. Stella Jensen, Past President of 17th District, Mrs. George Bertucci, Past President of Colma PTA, Mrs. Hazel Colwell, principal of Thornton School, and Miss Marie Traynor, Jefferson Principal, presided at the tea table. Guests were greeted by Mrs. Margargaret Pauline Brown, Mrs. Ramon Gomez, Mrs. Jack Offenbach, and Mrs. John C. Wiesner.

Mrs. Wm. Chessman, assisted by Mrs. Lewis Stanghellini and Mrs. Dale Stookey, was in charge of the needlework table, which contained many beautiful articles donated by the members. She reported $58.10 was realized from this source alone. A total of $37.50 was donated for the purchase of refreshments—$12.84 was spent leaving a surplus of $24.66 which was added to the day's receipts.

Annual Meeting

The Colma PTA held its annual meeting and election of officers on Tuesday, March 4, 1952, at the Colma Community Center.

The following women were duly elected as officers to serve for the coming year: Mrs. Sanford Vickers, president; Mrs. Roy Foster, vice-president; Mrs. George Bertucci, recording secretary; Mrs. Joseph Doyle, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Claude Newman, treasurer; Mrs. Wm. Chessman, auditor; and Mrs. John C. Wiesner, historian. They will be installed at a dinner meeting to be held the first week in April—the exact date and place to be decided.

Mr. Robert M. Moore, 17th District Safety Chairman, gave an interesting and informative talk on Safety and Civil Defense. He stated that the recent alert brought out glaring deficiencies in many areas of the County, which lacked an over-all defense plan. Only through active participation of our citizens, through volunteer Civil Defense workers, can we make ourselves prepared. Our own schools have already gone a long way in setting up their own plans in times of "alerts," now it is time for us to prepare.

The following room-mothers acted as hostesses for the afternoon: the Mesdames E. J. Dennis, John D. Hansen, Allan Mori, Claude Newman, Jack Offenbach, and E. T. Phelan.

Among the guests present were: Mrs. Wm. Charleston, president, Mrs. C. J. Chiosso, Jr., Past President, and Mrs. John Madden, President-elect, all from Alvarado PTA, San Francisco; Mrs. Tina Hollingsworth, Past President of Colma; and Mr. H. Z. Weibel, Jefferson Elementary District Superintendent of Schools.

Girl Scout Troop Wins Window Prize

Troop No. 19 Proves The Best

Members of local Girl Scout Troop 19 were pleased to learn that they had won first place in the Junior Division Red Cross Window Display Contest having been awarded the trophy cup for 1952.

The windows, obtained through the courtesy of A. J. Gaggero, 7377 Mission street, Daly City, represented two phases of the Red Cross Blook Donor Service, the Civilian Donor Service and the Armed Services need.

In lashing the tiny beds used in the display, the girls demonstrated one of the many skills they have learned in Scouting.

Troop 19 functions under the leadership of Mrs. Ernest Golladay, Mrs. Nathan Temkin and Mrs. John D. Hansen.

The following girls are members of the troop: Marilynn Baker, Florence Benedetti, Geraldine Bertetta, Linda Bertucci, Carol and and Linda Bloom, Sanda Briggs, Beth Brownlee, Carol Bruce, Jill Dougherty, Elaine Gaggero, Nancy Golladay, Carol Hansen, Beverly High, Nancy Hopper, Eileen Johns, Barbara McCowan, Laverne Nannini, Jane Niblock, Marie Perdue, Joyce Shanoian, Audrey Stewart, Cheryl Taylor, Robin Temkin and Charlene Van Vliet.

Councilman Mooney Has New Grandaughter

Councilman Ed Mooney is smiling today over a new addition to the Mooney clan...a 6 pound girl born February 26 in a Sacramento hospital.

Named Susan Anita, the new citizen of the world is the daughter of Mrs. Muriel Jones, the former Miss Muriel Mooney.

This is the second grandchild for Mooney. Eddy, an all American boy, beat Susan into this world by three years.

DEAR PARENTS
By Jane Keith

I have just been reading a very good book on child psychology titled, "Our Children Today," by Greuenberg. This book is divided into 28 chapters, each being written by an expert in the material covered therein, but the one which I have practically worn out is headed, "Pre-Adolescents: What Makes Them Tick." It is more than a chapter to me— it is the living portrait of my almost twelve-year-old daughter, Barbara.

"The period of pre-adolescense," it starts out, "is a stretch of no-man's land in child-study work. By pre-adolescence I mean the phase when the nicest children begin to behave in a most AWFUL way. This definition cannot be called scientific, but those who have to live with children of that age will immediately recognize what I am talking about. This phase lies somewhere between childhood and adolescence—roughly speaking, between about nine and thirteen in terms of chronological age, or between the fifth and eighth grades in terms of school classification."

This opening put me at ease immediately, because, frankly, I had been wondering, worrying, and blaming myself for Barbara's personality changes—and here seemed to be hope for a logical explanation of what the book called normal growth. Let me quote some more:

"Outwardly, the most striking thing about these children is their extreme physical restlessness. They CANNOT STAND STILL, running is more natural to them than walking, the word "SITTING" is a euphemism if applied to what they do with a chair or table. Their hands seem to need constant occupational therapy—they will turn up the edges of any book they handle, manipulate pencils, any objects near them, or any one of the dozen-odd things they carry in their pockets, pull at parts of their own bodies, whether it be nose or ears, scratch their hair or parts of the anatomy usually taboo." Shades of Barbara. "Funny gestures and antics seem to turn up over night with little or no reason—such things as facial tics, odd gestures, jerky movements, long-outgrown speech disorders."

Most important sub-heading in the chapter is called, "How To Survive Life With Junior," and it is not a laughing matter for parents. Here is the abreviated list, and believe me, the advice works! Just read ALL of the books, and all of the chapter, before expecting it to work perfectly.

1. "Avoid counter-hysterics! Whatever you decide to do with your children, the WAY you do it should be realistic, free from hysteric over-emotionalism. With this policy in mind," says the book, "you can enjoy all the fun of having problems with your child without producing a problem child!"

2. "Don't fight windmills! Let's not forget that pre-adolescents are much more expert in handling us than we ever can be in handling them!"

This has been proved too many times for ME to deny it, at any rate.

3. "Provide a frame of life adequate for growth! No matter how much you dislike it, every pre-adolescent youngster needs the chance to have some of his wild behavior come out in some place or other. It will make a lot of difference whether or not he has a frame of life adequate for such growth. All youngsters need some place where pre-adolescent traits can be exercised and even TOLERATED. It is your duty to plan for such places in their life as skillfully as you select their school or vocational opportunities."

4. "Watch out for pre-adolescent corns! Most people don't mind having their toes stepped on occasionally, but if there is a corn there, that is a different matter. The one thing they don't want to be reminded of is of themselves as small children, of yourselves as the mother or father of the younger child. If you punish, don't repeat ways you used when they were little! If you praise, don't use words that would please a three year old, but make a thirteen year old red with shame or fury."

5. "If in doubt, make a diagnostic check-up! Not all the behavior forms we described above are always MERELY "pre-adolescent." Whenever you are very much in doubt it is wise to consult expert help—just as you would if your child had a serious illness and needed a doctor's services."

Well, that gives you a brief glimpse of what has been taking up my evenings of late. And, Marcie Trier, can you hear me down in the library? This book would look mighty fine up there on the reference shelf—for parents, for teachers, for anyone interested in why children are as they are. Here's hoping!

BRUNSWICK STREET

In Objecting To Street Extension, Smith Says, "It Can't Happen Here."

March 3, 1952

Editor
The Record

Dear Sir:

It seems to me that the publicity given in the past to the matter of the controversy over the extension of Brunswick street through my property to Hillside boulevard by the city has been of such nature as to leave the impression with many people that it is a political matter—a controversy between two political machines—the "Smith Political Machine," whatever that is, being one of them.

The facts in the matter are simply these. When the Market Street Railway sold their holdings to the City of San Francisco, the Municipal Railway did not wish to continue the quarry operation which had formerly been carried on for some 40 years by the Market Street Railway in our city.

The property was offered to the City, but was turned down. I bought it and in about 1945 proceeded with a combination quarrying and grading job under the supervision of Floyd Hardwick with plans showing the grading scheme to be followed to bring about a terraced landscape for the purpose of building thereon a modern motel of some 200 units.

By operating the old quarry and selling crushed rock he was able to hold that immense grading job down to $55,000.00.

When the job was about 90% completed I learned that the City was preparing to extend Brunswick street through the property for, of all things, a place for the Municipal busses to go through to turn around.

When that proposal became publicly known and received the ridicule it merited, a new reason was given for the street extension, to relieve the traffic congestion at the bottleneck on the hill—Mission street is 134 feet wide at that point.

Quite naturally I objected to this useless street being put through and its preventing my going ahead with my million dollar motel project which, by the way, would have meant an additional annual payroll of over $100,000 and the bringing of almost ¾ of a million dollars of outside money into our city annually.

The city proceeded and a trial was held in Redwood City to determine what amount the city should pay for the 32,000 sq. ft. of property necessary to carry out the project.

Following that trial of several days the court decided that any estimate of the value of the land taken by the City, by myself or my appraisers could not be considered for the reason that we had knowledge of the plan I was carrying out and our judgments were influenced thereby and proceeded to set the value at some $4,400.00.

Quite naturally I appealed and we are awaiting the decision of the higher court which if not favorable I shall appeal to the Supreme Court.

Bear in mind, this is something that happened not in some far away place, not in Russia, but right here in our own city and while the award of $4,400.00 (sufficient to pay part of the expense of the court trial) means a heavy financial loss, that fortunately has no particular meaning to me. My appeal to the highest court, if necessary, is to determine if such a thing can really happen here in our city and our country.

The reason for putting Brunswick street through and the uselessness of the street are evidently too well understood by the people of Daly City generally for me to take up space in your paper to go into it.

Very truly yours,
H. H. SMITH

(Ed Note: The final decision on the aforesaid appeal will be made sometime next month, Frank Blum, city attorney said today. Meanwhile, a hearing on a temporary injunction Smith has received, stopping work on the street extension, will be held in superior court Wednesday, March 12.)

Local Hero Wins Bronze Star

PFC Vaughn Cited For Heroism In Action

Because he believed it would be bragging to write his mother that he won a Bronze Star Medal, Pfc Gerald A. Vaughn kept the secret until this week.

His heroism was first learned of by his sister, Mrs. Leonard Anderson, 281 Westlake, when she received a letter from the First Calvary Division headquarters.

The citation reads: Pfc Vaughn is cited for heroism in action against an armed enemy on October 8, 1951 near Mago-ri, Korea.

As the second platoon was attacking battalion objective number one, it was subjected to intense small arms automatic weapons, machine gun, mortar and artillery fire which forced a withdrawal. Private Vaughn was helping a wounded man off the hill when he was pinned down by machine gun fire.

Displaying admirable courage, he exposed himself to the enemy observation while delivering covering fire with his automatic rifle.

Not until all the wounded had been evacuated and the rest of the platoon had reached safety did Private Vaughn withdraw.

His valiant action saved the lives of numerous friendly soldiers and served as an inspiration to his comrades.

The citation is signed "by Command of Major General Harrold."

Pfc Vaughn entered the army in February of last year and by July was in Korea. He was wounded later in November and evacuated to Japan where he is now attached to an occupation force.

He will be remembered by many as the friendly doorman at the Daly City theatre.

Lucky Anglers Can Bring Home Trout Dinner To Mother

Rod And Gun Club Sponsors Contest

Like to catch a big rainbow trout, direct from the mountain streams—and do it right in downtown San Francisco?

Well, if you're 12 years old, or younger, it can be done. Not only that, but the fishing is free, you get to keep the trout you catch, and there's a chance for a free vacation in the Trinity mountains.

The Daly City Rod and Gun Club, in cooperation with the San Francisco Call Bulletin, is operating a Huck Finn Fish Pool at the Sportsmen's Show, currently showing at the civic auditorium through March 9.

The 60 by 25 foot pool is stocked with big, lively rainbow trout, and all kids 12-years-old or under can pull them out, if they can hook them. They can keep all they catch, to take home to the family for a real fish fry. There is plenty of fish to supply the pool—furnished by the division of fish and game.

The exhibit is in Larkin Hall, and is open each day from 1 p.m. to midnight, staffed by members of the local rod and gun club, and their wives.

The trout vary in size from small ones to a 10-pound monster, who still lurks in the depths, uncaught.

The fishing pool is fun, and provides a good meal for the lucky. But the big angle is the grand prize. The youngster catching the biggest fish will win a free, weeklong vacation at the Coffee Creek Ranch in the Trinity mountains for himself and his family. That's a prize worth angling for.

Sarto A.C. Defeats Vince And Fred's In League Tussle

Hot competition in the San Francisco AA League continued Sunday at Marchbanks Park,(as the Sarto AC nine overpowered Vince and Fred's, 12-3.

Hitting power was the deciding factor, as the Sarto boys rapped out 16 bingles off two Vince and Fred hurlers. Pitchers Monosse and Rainey, for the winners, limited the opposition to seven scattered hits, and allowed only two men to reach home plate, although left fielder Arata managed it twice.

Jim Scott, ace 18-year-old 3rd sacker for the Sartos, rapped out four for six, to lead the batting parade. Scott is now in spring training with the Boston Red Sox and his followers expect him to hit the big time shortly.

Other heavy stickers for the athletic club included first baseman Sims, with three for four, and Pfender, Parodi and Schuback, who each collected two.

Only one Vince and Fred's hitter managed to gather two base hits, first sacker Malman.

WESTLAKE SHOPPING CENTER

Miller's Variety Store Holds Grand Opening With Many Bargains

One of Daly City's finest new store opened for business today, March 6.

Miller's Variety Store in the Westlake Town and Country shopping center is now ready to serve the public, Don Miller, owner, advised THE RECORD.

The store features a complete line of items for the home, as well as thousands of personal articles.

"It is difficult to say just what we carry, as we have everything you can find in larger department stores," Miller said.

Among the many fine items to be purchased are: a complete line of household and kitchen ware, including glassware, dinnerware, pottery, revere ware and plastics; household hardware, electric supplies, stationery, gift wrapping, cards, party accessories; scarves, handkerchiefs, and everything for milady including yardage, sewing notions and yarns.

Readers will find some surprising bargains in the SHOPPING NEWS where Miller has just about given away many items for the grand opening.

In conjunction with the opening, Miller's will give the first 500 women a beautiful handkerchief, and the children will be treated to candy.

Be sure and drop in and see Miller's Variety Store today. Store hours are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday thru Saturday, and 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Fridays.

Georgia Dupper Named Youth Head

Westlake League Elects Officers

Georgia Dupper, 41 Cliffside drive, was again elected president of the Westlake Junior Association at a recent meeting of that group.

Other new officers include: Barbara Lind, vice-president; Jeanne Gordhon, secretary; Nancy Livernoise, treasurer, and Sue Dobbins, sergeant-at-arms.

The organization, made up of teen-agers in Westlake, meets every two weeks at the Westlake club house, 95 S. Mayfair. Their meetings are concerned with bettering the community and helping those in need.

At the last meeting they prepared scrap books which will be taken to the veteran patients at Leterman General Hospital.

Judge Bocci Hits Superior Court Case Delays

Judge Thomas Bocci today called for a revision of superior court calendar system which results in what he termed, "a miscarriage of justice."

He called for the establishment of additional courts to lighten the burden on the presently pressed superior courts.

Judge Bocci said:

"It appears that there is a waiting period of some 18 months before cases come to trial in our Redwood City Superior Court. Many times the result is that witnesses are gone or memories are inaccurate, and the result is that many time innocent people are caused to suffer in consequence."

The County Bar Association is hoping to rectify this and our three Superior Courts are working long hours in order to alleviate the congested trial calendar.

The only solution is the creation of two more departments for our Superior Court. Our county had two Judges when there were only 60,000 residents and with a population of over 250,000 residents at the present time, there should be at least 5 departments of our Superior Court to properly dispose of the business of this Court.

The newly created Municipal Court to be established in 1952, will alleviate the present conditions to some extent. However, this will not eliminate the necessity for five departments in our Superior Court.

This is a matter most vital to our people, and some action should be taken to effect a proper solution which will provide us with sufficient departments of our Superior Court to handle the load of trial work now pending before the Courts.

Daly City Couple Leave For Europe

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kohlbrenner, 463 Evergreen, are returning to Germany and the land of their birth for the first time since they came to this country, many years ago.

Leaving Daly City March 17, the Kohlbrenners will head by train for New York, where they will take ship passage to Europe. While there they will visit Coburg and Schweinfurt—both in Bavaria. Kohlbrenner was born in Coburg, while his wife was born in Schweinfurt. He has not seen his native land for 30 years, she for 24.

Both have relatives living in their home towns. Mrs. Kohlbrenner will visit a sister and brothers, while her husband will see his brother and his 90-year-old mother. They will be gone for three months.

Kohlbrenner is a machinist in the Sierra Candy Factory in San Francisco.

Local Women Cheer 50 Korean Veterans

Nearly 50 boys of Wards K-1 and K-3 of eye surgery were entertained last Wednesday evening by the ladies of Court St. Mary, Catholic Daughters of America at a session of bingo.

Prizes were given and later in the evening ice cream and assorted cookies were served.

Ladies visiting the boys were: Mesdames Hans Schroeder, J. F. Voboril, Arthur Heyden, J. H. Genochio, B. Adams, May Baker, Albina Holmes, Richard J. Ennis, Josephine and Marjorie Pyne.

VILLAGE NOTES

BROADMOOR, GARDEN VILLAGE, COLMA
by
Mrs. Mark Swoverland
PLaza 5-4158

March certainly came in with quite a roar this weekend, but is already showing signs that it may go out like a lamb. (Ed. Note: Signs had changed by press time.) Also this week, each home is being visited by a Red Cross volunteer. The Broadmoor and Garden Village group is headed this year by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bocci.

Nimitz

This weekend was a popular time for birthdays. Dick Rasor was 13 years old on March 1, and Dick Stookey was 14 on March 2. Both boys celebrated at family gatherings.

Midway

Around the corner on Midway, Alex Mattson celebrated his fourth birthday March 2. Those attending his luncheon party Saturday included Renie and Becky Locke, Andy Travinsky, Karen and Travinsky, Karen and Marilyn Mattson, Dickie, Kenny and Bobby Bode, Mike and Stevie Droullard, Mike Walters, Jackie, Dickie and Tommie Crofton, and Dennis and Brian Mattson.

Mrs. Grace Crofton spent a lovely weekend in Sonoma.

Foothill

We are sorry to hear that Karen and Kent Guymon, Johnny and Claudia Guz, and Ginny Jones all have been confined to their homes with colds. Hope they are all up and about soon.

Wildwood

Pearl Harris was hostess Tuesday evening at a baby shower in honor of Margaret McElhinny. Those present included Amparo Arejula, Cecile Greninger, Fleeta Loomis, Louis Courtney, Freda Sherman, Helen Mahoney, Shiela Mahoney, Irene Park, Fleeta Lagoria, Betty Hart, Doris Menary, Dolores Shields, Laverne McNalby and Mary Ann Friedman.

A canasta party was held at the home of Mrs. Doris Menary Friday night. Amparo Arejula, Irene Park, Mary Contreras, Shiela Mahoney and Cookie Fambrini were her guests.

87th

John Le Pine, Joaquin Andrade, Mark Kelleher, Jimmy Swoverland and Bruce Krulevitch were all on hand to help Roger Ladd celebrate his fifth birthday Saturday. All the boys received kites, and their fathers spent Sunday afternoon flying them.

Mrs. Gladys Fies, Mrs. Chloe Tannehill and Mrs. Charlotte Spruiell attended a meeting of Presbytery in Oakland Wednesday.

Here and There

The James L. Snell PTA will hold a fashion tea March 8 at the Jefferson high school at 1:15 p.m.

Members of Boy Scout troop 84 were guests of Girl Scout troop 19 at a party Monday evening at Community Center. They danced and played games, and feasted on hot dogs and soda pop. From all reports they had a grand time.

There were 32 present at a Chinese dinner held at Cameron House Monday night. Cameron House is a Chinese mission house on Sacramento street. Mr. Wickman, director of the home, spoke to the group and guided them on a tour of the house.

The Colma PTA leap year fashion show and silver tea last Friday was a great success. It was held in the lovely home of Mrs. Ramon Gomez, and featured a fashion show where mothers and their children modeled the clothes the mothers had made. There were many lovely outfits, including three hand-knit dresses, several suits and coats, numerous dresses, and a few mother and daughter dresses.

LAKE MERCED POST TO NOMINATE OFFICERS

Commander Woods announces that Lake Merced Post 9921, VFW, will hold its nomination of Post officers for the 1952-1953 term of office.

Election of officers will take place at the following meeting which will be on March 20.

The installation of the new Post officers will take place some time in April, at which time the general public will be cordially invited to attend.

California bees produced 480,000 pounds of beeswax in 1951, leading all other States.

Red Cross Workers Are Out In Force In Colma District

Many volunteer workers have contributed their services in order that the Colma district might reach its quota of $2,125 in the current Red Cross fund campaign, it has been announced by Mrs. M. Pauline Brown, general chairman.

In Garden Village, Ralph Damon, captain, is assisted by Mrs. Margaret Damon, Dr. Reginald Bell, Mrs. William Bohn, Mrs. J. H. Gold, Mrs. J. Bergerstresser, Dr. Ed Macklin, E. N. Olsen and Valdemar Olson.

In Broadmoor, Thomas Bocci, Jr., captain, is being assisted by Mrs. Melania Bocci, Mrs. John Fies, Mrs. K. Mattson, Mrs. Dorothy Swoverland, Mrs. Crafton, Whitehead, Derrham, Duste, L. Bocci, Huber, Pattison, Pridmore, Cheda, Cumberti, M. Bocci, Corso, Merchant, Hoffman, Fanfille, Gancert, W. Minskel, Marks, Green, Dethelfsen, Prince, Eagleton, Williams Brands and Brehm.

In Colma, Inc., a committee of three in charge includes Mrs. Louise Baciocco Brendt, Mrs. Pauline Pollastrini and E. A. Weisenburger.

For Colma, unincorporated, those handling the drive are Mrs. Erva Denham, captain, Mrs. Marge Hopper, Mrs. Jean Suenderman, Mrs. Leta Dennis and Mrs. Serventi.

For the Colma district, Market to School street, Mary Belli, Bianca Ratto, Mary Gianni and K. Casentini, members of the YLI, are in charge.

Mrs. Maryan Patey, Mrs. Helene Mori and Mrs. M. Pauline Brown are handling the business district.

Flu and heavy colds prevented some workers from getting started Monday, but most were going strong by the middle of the week, in an effort to achieve the quota.

CORNED BEEF FEED SLATED MARCH 15

The Holy Name Society and the Mothers' Club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, Daly City, will be in charge of a corned beef dinner on Saturday evening, March 15.

Facts truck owners should know about hauling bigger payloads

"With our new Dodge, the payload is high, the cost per mile low!"
. . . says MORRIS SAPIR
Dependable Furniture Company, Oakland, California

"After using Dodge 'Job-Rated' trucks for eight years exclusively, I want to report that your new models are keeping me sold on Dodge.

"No vehicle we have ever seen can give our drivers more freedom in city traffic than our Dodge 1-ton truck. With our new Dodge, the payload is high, the cost per mile low."

WANT to know why you can carry more payload with Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks?

First, they've got better weight distribution. This means that bigger payload capacity is engineered into a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck. Many trucks carry too much weight on the rear axle, not enough on the front. But in a Dodge truck, the right proportion of the load is carried on each axle.

Besides this better weight distribution, a shorter wheelbase provides easier turning, easier parking. Come in and try one of these payload-packin', easier-handling trucks for yourself. Get all the facts about hauling bigger payloads.

Carry more! In Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks, the engine is placed forward and the front axle back—for better distribution of the load. You can carry bigger payloads—without overloading.

Haul faster! Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks are powered by high-compression engines to give you top performance with rock-bottom economy. Big power gives you pull and speed that save time.

Get longer life! There's a Dodge truck that's "Job-Rated" to fit your road and load condition—with load-carrying and load-moving units factory-engineered to stand up on toughest service.

Two Cagers Named To Big Seven

Two San Mateo jaysee basketball players have been named to the Big Seven Conference honor team. They are Ervin Bonner, star forward, who led the league in scoring, and Al Mangin, center, who ranked third in league scoring. Bonner has played his two years of jaysee ball, but Mangin is a freshman and has another year of junior college competition.

Under the direction of Coach Dell Fishback, Matean tracksters have been making ready for the opening of the track season. They will enter a practice meet Saturday in San Francisco competing against the University of San Francisco and San Francisco State College.

Meanwhile the baseball nine led by Coach Herb Hudson started off the practice season by defeating the Stanford Braves squad, 4-2, and will continue a long practice season before playing a league opponent.

The golf squad will open its practice season matches at the Pebble Beach course March 14 against Monterey College. Coach Ray Balsley has a large turnout of golfers. Netmen, directed by coaches E. H. Bashor and Ken Turner will play the Stockton College tennis squad this week at Stockton.

Meat Market Team Retains Lead In City Bowl League

With only five more weeks to go in the season, and 23 rugged weeks finished, the College Hill Meat Market boosted its lead in the Daly City Merchants Bowling League by taking two games from the Thur Meat Co.

In doing so, the College Hill kegglers pushed themselves into a two-game lead, and are grimly determined to hang on. The rest of the league standings remained the same.

The high series of Monday night's games was rolled by Nate Pearlman, of the Eagles, with a 547. He was followed by Paul Bruch, of the Lombardi team, with a 525 total.

The evening's high games were rolled by John Pickett, of the College Hill squad, with 196, and Tony Santos, of the Central Club, with 195.

Churches And Bar Will Operate Side By Side

Two South San Francisco ministers asked the board of education for permission to operate churches within 600 feet of licensed cafes where liquor is sold—and received the permission.

The state board always has denied liquor licenses if premises are less than 600 feet from a church, but both Rev. Robert Morse of the Episcopal Church, and Rev. A. E. Cole of the Methodist Church, wanted to conduct services within a few feet of a cocktail lounge.

Neither minister had objections to the cocktail lounge, but the owners wanted to be sure their liquor license would not be placed in jeopardy.

North County To Send 26 For Physical Exam

Draft board 57, serving northern San Mateo county, will send 26 men on March 10 for preinduction physical examinations to fill the April quota, it was announced recently.

Board 58, south San Mateo count, will send 28 men March 17.

Meanwhile, 76 men are standing by to fill the March quota. Board 57 will send 41 men into the armed forces March 27, and board 58 will dispatch 35 men March 31.

CORNED BEEF FEED SLATED MARCH 15

The Holy Name Society and the Mothers' Club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, Daly City, will be in charge of a corned beef dinner on Saturday evening, March 15.

Come and bring the family, enjoy a good dinner, entertainment and fun.

Car Noises

If your car develops an abnormal sound or noise, don't let it go unattended. Prompt attention to correcting the cause of the noise will prevent you from having it develop into serious trouble, says the California State Automobile Association, and may also save you considerable expense.

SPORTSMAN'S CALENDAR

The Division of Fish and Game reminds California sportsmen of the following general regulations which apply to current hunting and fishing:

Awards Distributed At Cub Scout Meet

Cub Pack No. 63 met February 29 in Bellevue Hall, and awards were presented to many of the Cub Scouts by Cubmaster Michael Cubic.

Awards were given to the following boys:

Den Two: Don Cubic, silver arrow; Michael Crystal, bear badge, gold and silver arrow; Roger Stahl, lion badge; Michael Cox, wolf badge; Raymond Brandon, silver arrow.

Den Three: Jerry Courts, gold arrow, bear badge; Lynn Anderson, gold arrow; Jim Keefe, gold arrow; Bob Galli, silver arrow.

Den One: Bobby Wismans, wolf badge.

Den Five: John Vinal, two-year pin, silver arrow; Ray Cavellini, one-year pin; Maurice Bradshaw, lion badge, silver arrow; Tommy McEutee, wolf badge.

A pantomine was presented by Den One on events occurring in February. Boys who appeared in the skits were Michael Kordoules, Joseph Crudo, Richard Moran, Bobby Wismans and Steve Lyon.

A travelogue movie on Mexico was shown to the Cubs and parents by Mr. Mariner, of American Airlines.

OUT OF GODFREY'S TEABAG

Both the Republican and the Democratic national conventions are to be held in Chicago. That's appropriate—all the politicians together in the Windy City.

With each Federal tax refund they're going to include the following poem:

You overpaid us, bless you.
Now here's your extra jack,
But don't you spend it foolishly—
Come March we'll have it back.

Some people want Taft elected as an economy measure. They wouldn't have to change the letter "T" on the White House towels.

A fellow standing at the bar put down his glass, blinked his eyes and fell flat on his face. His friend looked at him and said: "You know that's the nice thing about John. He always knows when to stop."

The real reason Winston Churchill came to this country was to find out where Dick Tracy got all that money.

Jefferson Star Is Named To All-Star Squad By Writers

Delbon Almost Hits Berth On Varsity

Don Delbon, star sophomore forward for the Jefferson high basketball squad this season, has been named to the varsity second team on the 1952- All-Peninsula Athletic League team.

The team was selected by the Peninsula Sportswriters' Association after a vote of prep writers covering the athletic scene between Daly City and San Jose. Eight scribes, using coaches' recommendations as their guide, took part in the vote.

Just Misses

Delbon just missed making the first team, and writers felt he contributed greatly to his team's success. Delbon is a gifted shooter, but was felt to lack the polish shown by his more experienced rivals. For a sophomore, however, he showed plenty of promise, and should be up among the leaders next year.

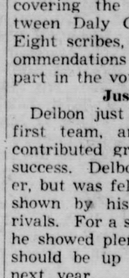
Larry Blanchard, Jefferson forward, was listed on the varsity honorable mention list, as was guard Don Wilson. Phil Coffman was named for lightweight honorable mention.

Slender Frank Rodriquez, of Sequoia high school, was named "Player of the Year." Sports scribblers were unanimous in selecting him. He was singled out for his team leadership, tremendous stamina and deadly shooting, which rolled up 196 points in 11 league games.

A Little Courtesy

In every driving situation, points out the National Automobile Club, the wise driver is willing to give, to give graciously, for he knows that a little courtesy will go a long way to keeping him safe.

NO CHEATING, DAD. THIS CONTEST is only for youngsters 12 years of age or younger, and doesn't include the old folks. This shot was taken at the Sportsmen's Show in San Francisco, where the Daly City Rod and Gun Club is sponsoring a Huck Finn Pool. The father has his mind on the trout, but the small one seems more interested in the photographer. (See story at right.)



ANGLING ANGLES by old Hi

For Immediate Release

Fellows, there's a bit of news which Old Hi is spillin' over to tell you. It's something unusual, you can bet, to make me burst out this way, so light up a pipe and give an ear for a moment.

For the past three years you've been reading (I hope!) these little angling chats . . . and another big season is just ahead when I'll be with you again each week. So be on the watch. Right now, though, let me give you the dope on this special event.

We've landed on friendly terms, you and me, and have had a lot of fishin' sport together; but you haven't actually seen your old guide. Well, pards, you can do so at last!

Yep, durned if a bunch of movie makers and producers didn't go and get me "took" by a camera while I was coachin' a man and his wife in the ways of tackling the bouncing bass and tricky trout. Fact is, they call the film "Fishing With H-I Power Glass Rods", and it's all in color, with sound.

The picture opens up with me showin' this novice and his red-haired wife how a solid glass bait casting rod should be put together and handled; then we push out in a rowboat on Otsego Lake, New York, and have a brisk set-to with the black bass. You should see the lunker which that guy finally snags and reels to the net!

Then there's a big scene where I take this young couple to one of New York's famous trout streams, the West Canada Creek, rig up a new tubular glass fly rod, and we wade out in the swift water to fish below a falls.

It's a swell spot, where large browns and rainbows lurk. The girl catches a small trout, which is returned, but you want to feast your eyes on the hefty spotted beauty which her husband hooks and plays on the nimble rod.

One of the unusual and mighty interesting features of this 22-minute long colored movie is the "flashbacks", that are made from the places of angling action to the factory where the glass rods are made. This is to let you have an idea of the materials, processes, and work that go into forming the fine rods that give you the kind of sport shown in the film.

Old Hi viewed the first, private runoff of the movie, and I must say, fellows, that the scenery and action are the sort that make you want to grab your tackle and hit for the closest lake or stream. You'll see me really come to life, and hear a narrator explain the highlights of the action and the construction of these power glass rods.

This film, recently having its "world premiere" at the National Sporting Goods Association Show at Chicago, is released by the Horrocks-Ibbotson Co. You may see it free of charge by rounding up a group of your fishermen friends, contacting your nearest H-I tackle dealer, and getting him to book a date for its showing.

It's my bet that many outdoorsmen in your region will want to see this picture. Write to me, Old Hi, in care of this newspaper, if there are any questions, and get in touch with your tackle dealer today to see me in "Fishing With H-I Power Glass Rods".

Byron Kay Is New Yo-Yo Champion After Stiff Contest Last Weekend

By HARRY ARONSON
Coordinator of Recreation

Myron Kay, eighth grade student at Colma school, is now Daly City's Yo-Yo champion. Myron took first place at Marchbanks Playground contest last Saturday to also win the playground championship. Pat Smith gained runner up position.

Myron was presented a wool slip over sweater with "Gold Star" shield for his prize as playground champion, and he received a large chenile shield for taking the city championship. Pat Smith will receive a jumbo yo-yo for winding up in second place.

Cathy Rasmussen, the only girl to compete in the yo-yo contest, was awarded a Gold Charm Yo-Yo, and was named champion in her division.

For winning the city championship, Myron now will represent Daly City in the district finals, to be held March 8 at Lowell Playground, San Jose, at 10 a.m.

Kite Contest

Saturday, March 8, Lincoln and Marchbanks playgrounds will hold kite contests. Boys should consult their playground directors for rules, time and place of these contests. Prizes will be awarded.

Last Saturday, March 1, at Marchbanks Playground, the Perpetuai Help "B" team defeated the Colma Jets for the league championship. The game was a playoff affair since both teams ended the regular season in a tie.

Perpetual Help jumped to an early lead and held the Jets scoreless during the first half. Half time score was 14-0.

The second half found the Colma team coming to life to make the game interesting, but the clever dribbling of Perpetual Help's Lee Casentini, and the rebounding and scoring of Bob Brandt staved off the Jets threat of winning the game.

Bob Brandt led Perpetual Help with 12 points, followed by Lee Casentini with six and Dick Garibaldi with two. The Jets high scorer and outstanding player was Rocci, with seven points. Bill Long made four, and Danny Rasmussen contributed two, for the Jets total of 13 points.

The team members of Perpetual Help will receive medals for winning the league championship.

YOUNG COLMA GIRL IS INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY TRUCK ON STREET

Three-year-old Shirley Rafger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rafger, Route 1, Box 139, Colma, was reported out of danger early this week after suffering a serious head injury when struck by a truck recently.

The youngster was hit while playing on E Street. The truck driver, Andrew Giananni, owner of Giananni's market in Colma, was apparently backing up and did not see the child playing in the street, according to police.

The girl was taken to Junipero Serra Hospital, where she was treated for a serious scalp laceration, extensive friction burns about the face and body, and possible concussion.

New Mexico Wild Life

New Mexico has more than thirty species of game, fifteen species of fur-bearing animals, and three hundred species of birds, according to the National Automobile Club.

Polish Car Regularly

Polish the car periodically to avoid traffic film, that discolored surface that convinces the motorist that the car finish is gone, advises the National Automobile Club. It is a combination of oil-laden exhaust fumes and the ordinary dirt and dust that is in the atmosphere. Polishing is a sure preventive.

Driver Cited Recently After Accident Is Not Daly City Policeman

Daly City police officials today denied that John Peck, 21, of 20 Lynwood Drive, whose convertible went out of control in San Francisco last week, injuring four, was connected with the police department here.

Peck was reported in a San Francisco newspaper as being a Daly City policeman. According to officials here, Peck at one time was a special officer in the Westlake district, but is not connected with the department in any way.

Three girls in the car with Peck were injured in the accident, one seriously. Peck also suffered minor injuries. He was cited for driving 55 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone, and for having no driver's license. According to patrolmen, his car hit a curb, knocking off the right rear wheel, and then glanced off a parked auto, knocking it 45 feet.

Properties are sold subject to certain liens, if any, such as street, sewer, lighting or other special assessments. Purchaser receives a tax title which in most cases will not be passed by a title company until tested in a court action to quiet title.

Properties will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder, for the full amount of his bid tendered, immediately as each parcel is sold.

If redemption of the property or the initiation of an installment plan of redemption is not made according to law prior to the sale thereof, the right of redemption will cease.

Daly City Attorney Seeks GOP Backing For Assembly Seat

A 28-year-old Daly City attorney, Walter McElroy, announced today he will seek the support of the Republican fact-finding committee for the now north county state assembly seat.

The committee meets tonight, March 6, to choose a candidate. Others who have announced interest in the Republican backing are: Andrew Byrd, Burlingame city councilman; and Carroll S. Bucher, South San Francisco attorney.

Thomas Jenkins, 31-year-old Broadmoor attorney, has received the endorsement of the Democratic party. He will oppose, among others, Peter Markovich, local insurance man and chairman of the Jefferson high school board of trustees.

Burglars Enter Through Open Window, Take Ring

Mrs. Pauline Morris, 38 East Cavour street, reported to police that while she was away visiting, burglars climbed through a window and stole $15 in cash and a diamond ring valued at $200.

Police found a ladder leaning against the open window, but had no other clues to the burglary.

Becker Urges Heart Fund Aid

Colma City Judge Charles Becker this week urged the public to lend full support to the current Heart Fund Drive in San Mateo county.

Becker said that there is no finer cause to which the public should contribute money.

"I wholeheartedly endorse the 'new hope for hearts' campaign now underway in our county," Judge Becker declared. "Heart disease can strike down friends and loved ones in the very prime of life and usefulness. Everyone should give generously toward helping to stamp out this malady."

Teen-Agers In Northern County Using Marijuana

More than 300 teen-age youths in northern San Mateo county have been using marijuana, according to Inspector Paul Jensen, of the San Mateo county sheriff's office, who spoke recently at the Sequoia high school narcotics conference in Redwood City.

Recently, Jensen told the group, nine marijuana pushers were arrested in South San Francisco, after months of investivation. The case was cracked with the aid of a 23-year-old informer.

Dr. Oliver Byrd, of Stanford University, told the audience there is an increasing demand for the subject of narcotics to be taught in high school. Statistics show, he said, that 50 per cent of all narcotic addicts take the drug before they are 24 years old.

San Francisco's Foreign Trade Zone at Pier 45B was the third in the United States and first on the Pacific Coast.

CITATION

No. 5345

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SAN MATEO

In the Matter of CARLA LEONARD an Abandoned Child.

TO: DOROTHY LEONARD

You are hereby notified that there has been filed in this Honorable Court a verified petition showing that the above named minor, CARLA LEONARD, is within the County of San Mateo, State of California, and is a person coming within the provision of the Welfare and Institutions Code of the State of California, and praying for an order of said Court determining CARLA LEONARD to be an abandoned child within the terms and meaning of Article IV, Section 22, of the Constitution of the State of California, and within the meaning of Section 224 of the Civil Code of the State of California,

NOW, THEREFORE, you are hereby cited and directed to appear before this Honorable Court on Wednesday, the 23rd day of April, 1952, at the hour of 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon thereof, at the Juvenile Department of the above entitled Court, at the Court House, Redwood City, California, then and there to show cause, if any you have, why an order should not be made by this Court adjudging and determining said CARLA LEONARD to be an abandoned child within the terms and meaning of Article IV, Section 22 of the Constitution of the State of California, and of the Welfare and Institutions Code of the State of California, judicially depriving you of any further right or interest in the custody or control of said child.

WITNESS, A. R. COTTON, Judge of the said Court, this 20th day of February, 1952.

Attest: My hand and the seal of the said Court, affixed the day and year last above written.

Servicemen Urged To Keep Insurance

Servicemen and veterans returning to active duty were urged today by Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer, San Mateo County, to take every precaution against letting their National Service Life Insurance policies lapse if they apply for in-service waiver of premiums.

Present law allows NSLI policyholders in active service to waive payment of the entire monthly premium on term policies and the "insurance risk" part of permanent-plan premiums, Granger said—but there is a lot of confusion over just how and when a waiver takes effect.

In many cases, servicemen have let their policies lapse for nonpayment of premiums in the mistaken belief their in-service waivers took effect upon application.

"Actually, the law says a waiver can be granted only when the applicant has been on duty more than 30 days, and then the first NSLI premium that may be waived is the one falling due on or after the second calendar day of the second calendar month after entry into service," Granger declared.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District of San Mateo County, State of California, will receive bids for the erection, construction and completion of the Westlake Elementary School Site Work upon public school property located at Westlawn Ave. & Fieldcrest Drive, Westlake subdivision, Daly City, County of San Mateo, State of California, including all necessary labor, materials, services, transportation, etc. Each bid or proposal to be in accordance with plans, drawings, specifications and other contract documents now on file in the office of the Superintendent of Schools for said School district, at the office in the existing Administration Building, 344 Santa Barbara Ave., Daly City, San Mateo County, California, where they can be examined and with Mario Ciampi, architect, 425 Bush St., San Francisco, California, and copies of same may be obtained from said architect at 425 Bush St., City and County of San Francisco, State of California, upon deposit of twenty dollars ($20.00) per set, which deposit will be refunded upon return of such copies in good condition within five days after the bids have been opened.

Bidders are hereby further notified that pursuant to the Statutes of State of California or local laws thereto applicable, it shall be mandatory upon the contractor to whom the contract is awarded, and upon any subcontractor under him to pay not less than the general prevailing hourly wage rate and the rate per diem wages and rates for legal holiday and overtime work in the locality in which this work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract awarded to the successful bidder. All bidders are hereby further notified that they must ascertain from the proper authorities the said wage rates before submitting their bid.

Bidders shall set forth in the bid the name and location of the mill shop or office of each subcontractor who will perform work or labor or render service to the contractor in or about the construction of the work or improvement and the portion of the work which will be done by each subcontractor.

Each bid shall be made out on a form to be obtained at the office of said Superintendent or at the office of said Architect at the addresses hereinabove set forth; shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bid bond for not less than 10% of the amount of the bid and made payable to the order of the said Jefferson Elementary School District, shall be sealed and filed with the said Superintendent of Schools at his office on or before 7:00 p.m. Friday, March 28, 1952, of the said day, and will be opened and publicly read aloud on Friday, March 28, 1952, at or about 7:00 p.m. of that day in the office of said Superintendent.

The above mentioned check or bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the contract if awarded to him and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract after being requested to do so by the said Board of Trustees.

Successful bidders on labor and material contract work will be required to furnish, in the amount of fifty per cent (50%) of the contract price a Labor and Material Bond, and a Faithful Performance Bond in the amount of one Hundred per cent (100%) of the contract price; said bonds to be secured from a surety company satisfactory to the Board of Trustees.

The board of Trustees reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any informality in a bid, or to award a contract on the basis of the proposal which serves the best interest of the School District.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

Dated at Daly City, California, the 29th day of February, 1952.

OUR SERVICEMEN

(This column brings you news of men in the armed service. In order that it may cover the activities of all Daly City area men, drop into The Record office, 3317 San Jose Ave., or call PLaza 5-4321.)

H. A. Titus

Harold A. Titus, son of Mrs. Bernice Titus of 4 Wellington avenue, Daly City, is now undergoing training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif.

The 18-year-old former Springfield high school student enlisted in the Marine Corps at Portland, Ore., recentiy.

During the eight-week "Boot Camp," as recruit training is commonly called, Private Titus will become well versed in such basic military subjects as precision drill, first aid, Marine Corps history and mission and field tactics.

Three weeks of the training period is spent at the Camp Matthews Rifle Range, situated 15 miles north of San Diego. While there, Private Titus will fire the .30 calibre Garand rifle, .45 calibre pistol, carbine and Browning Automatic Rifle. He will also receive indoctrination firing with the light and heavy machine guns, 60 and 81 mortars, flame throwers, and the latest type bozookas. Under a newly adopted training program he will also receive instructions in throwing live hand grenades.

Titus was employed by the Springfield Fire Department in Springfield, Ore., before reporting for service with the Marine Corps.

Upon completion of recruit training he will be granted a 10-day leave and, if he has maintained a good record, will be promoted to Private First Class. He will then be assigned to a Marine post or station for duty or to a Marine Corps School for advance training.

(The following is a list of local men in the service, and where they may be reached. THE RECORD prints this list as a public service. Any additions, or changes, should be addressed to THE RECORD, 3317 San Jose avenue—or by phoning PLaza 5-4321. Please help us keep this list up-to-date, as it will facilitate mail to men in the armed forces.)

HINTS FOR HOMEMAKERS

KEBABS ARE FESTIVE FOR BROILER MEALS

by the
General Electric Consumers Institute

The dictionary defines "kebabs" thusly:

"In the Orient, meat roasted in small pieces on a skewer and seasoned."

But you don't have to be in the Orient to cook—or to enjoy—kebabs. They can be made from almost any kind of meat, they look festive enough for "company meals", and they are easy to make in the broiler of your range, says the General Electric Consumers Institute.

Here are two kebab recipes, one using lamb and the other for a complete broiler meal of ham kebabs and yams.

Lamb Kebabs

Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cloves garlic
1½ pounds boned lamb shoulder, cut in 1½-inch cubes
6 medium tomatoes, halved crosswise
4 small green peppers, quartered and cut in 1½" inch squares

Melt butter in 1-quart saucepan on a high heat; remove from unit. Crush garlic cloves; add to melted butter and let stand 5 minutes. On six 8-inch skewers, alternate meat cubes, tomato halves and green pepper quarters, beginning and ending with lamb cubes. Arrange on broiler rack in broiler pan. Brush with garlic butter. Place broiler pan under broiler unit so top of food is 3-4 inches from broiler unit. Broil kebabs 8 minutes, turn; broil 8 minutes longer. Makes 6 servings.

Ham Kebab Broil

Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute

18 1-inch ham cubes
24 pineapple chunks
12 pitted ripe olives
12 1-inch crosswise slices cooked yams
¼ cup melted butter or margarine
¼ cup brown sugar

On six 7-inch skewers, place cube of ham, pineapple chunk, olive, pineapple chunk; repeat, ending with a cube of ham. Arrange kebabs in center of broiler rack in broiler pan. Place yam slices on both sides of kebabs. Brush yam slices and kebabs with half the butter. Place broiler pan under broiler unit so top of food is about 6 inches from broiler unit. Broil 8 minutes. Turn. Brush kebabs and yams with remaining butter; sprinkle brown sugar over top of yams; broil 5 minutes longer. Makes 6 servings.

Ham kebabs and yams combine to make a meal that cooks in the broiler of your electric range in only a few minutes and is festive for "company dinners".

Want To Be A Cop? Apply In Palo Alto

Anyone who has always wanted to be a cop now has the chance—if he can qualify.

Palo Alto police chief Howard A. Zink plans to retire June 30, after nearly 30 years of service. So the city is now accepting applications for the position.

The city prefers that applicants be 35 to 40 years old, and have at least three years of administrative experience in police work. Applications must be in by April 20.

Oh yes. In case you're interested, the job pays $560 per month.

Bids Sought For Mail Routes

Bids for the transportation of the mails by motor trucks over two routes out of Oakland and and routes out of Sacramento, Modesto and Stockton, California to intermediate points and return are being solicited by the Post Office Department, announced Postmaster John F. Fixa today.

Proposals will be received in Washington, D. C., until March 13, 1952. The contracts for the five routes will be effective from April 1, 1952, to June 30, 1954.

Trucks to be used in this service must have rear and side loading doors and must be of 1,800 cubic foot capacity.

Bid forms and detailed information may be secured from General Superintendent John C. Livingston of the Postal Transportation Service, 125 Embarcadero, San Francisco 6, California, or from the Postmasters at Oakland, Modesto, Sacramento or Stockton, California.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY WHIST PARTY SLATED

A special whist party, in honor of St. Patrick's Day, will be held Wednesday, March 19, in the Daly City Masonic Hall by El Carmelo chapter, Native Daughters of the Golden West.

According to Margaret Steele, chairman, many prizes will be awarded during the evening, and a special prize for lucky people in the hall by 8:15 p.m. Other prizes to be distributed at the event will soon be on display at the Hopman Electric and Radio, 6299 Mission.

McGraw Brothers Offer African Trip Contest

Two weeks on an African safari with the famed Commander Attilio Gatti Expedition, including a 15,000 mile air trip, or two glamour-filled weeks by air in New York or Hollywood, wait for the lucky winner of the 1952 "Pets Are Fun" flash photo contest. The contest, sponsored by Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., manufacturers of Sylvania Superflash bulbs, is now open, according to Jack Palm of McGraw Brothers, 6300 Mission.

The "Pets Are Fun" Contest is open to boys and girls nineteen years old or under. If a boy wins, he has a choice of the African safari or all-expense trip to New York or Hollywood with chaperone. A girl winner has her choice of trips to New York or Hollywood with a chaperone. The winner will travel in a luxurious TWA Trans World Constellation. Fifty other prizes include a Sterio Realist Camera with flash attachment and viewer, Sylvania clock radio and photo supplies.

Prints may be 2½" x 2½" or larger, in black-and-white, illustrating the theme "Pets Are Fun." Subject need not be owned by the contestant, and zoos, game preserves and farms are all fair province for contestants.

All pictures must be taken with flashbulbs and mailed with an official entry blank and the display panel from the outer wrapper of a sleeve of Superflash bulbs to Sylvania "Pets Are Fun" Contest, P. O. Box 167, New York 46, N.Y. They must be postmarked not later than midnight, April 26, 1952. Official entry blanks and details may be obtained from McGraw Brothers at 6300 Mission.

Local Firemen Support Heart Fund Campaign

The current county-wide Heart Fund Drive which is entering its final campaign period has had the support of every fire department in the county.

According to Fire Chief J. E. Kennedy the men of his department have lent a willing hand in the distribution of the familiar plastic heart coin containers. It is the plan to start gathering up the county plastic hearts within the next few days. A check here this week indicated that local residents have been more than generous in placing contributions in the heart receptacles.

Chief Kennedy felt that more citizens here would respond to the mail heart appeal which they received earlier this month and send in their heart fund donation before the close of the drive the first part of March.

The San Mateo County Heart Association, through its campaign expressed thanks to the county chairman Julio Dougherty, today firemen who voluntarily assumed the responsibility of aiding the 1952 heart fund effort.

Dougherty said that although each heart appeal letter contained an addressed return envelope for the convenience of contributors, it is possible that many givers would prefer addressing their own letters which may be mailed to HEART in care of the local post office.

News of Your Local Businesses and Business Men

TOYLAND NURSERY school student, Jerry Streb, has a nev slant on the earwig scent-uation in Daly City. His teacher report that after capturing three of the repulsive insects, he held them ou to her to smell—

"Go on, teacher, smell them," he urged.

"They don't smell, Jerry, all you can smell is that tin can they'r in!"

"They do SO smell!" he insisted. "THEY SMELL PURPLE!"

POST SCRIPT: This opinion was later verified by other small sniffer and will have me looking for anti-purple earwig bait down at th Daly City Hardware Store—How about it Ed Nenstiel? I've trie everything else.

Just had to ask Charles Bried—one of the RUG MEN down o Junipero Serra Blvd.—"How tall are you, anyway?" To which h replied:

"Five feet—seventeen inches."

POST SCRIPT: He wasn't kidding about his height—nor about th really outstanding buy he has there on "Bigelow" broadloom car pet at $5.95 per yard. This gives you a 9 x 12 for $71.40—and no bet ter budget terms in town!

DALY CITY SUPER SERVICE station owner, Joe Lewkowitz should be twins or better to keep up with his many and varied in terests. Besides running a really super service station and bein father to a family of seven children—he is a member of the "Ga Chorders" band, the Eagles, Lions club and is currently headin business solicitations for the Red Cross drive. Seems to me I've for gotten one or two others, but get the idea??

NEVILLE MOTORS salesman, Robert Baker, was caught of guard by the lady who wandered in to admire the new Ford "Main line" V8 and stayed to ask:

"Isn't that the '52 fancy, super duper model?"

"Oh, no," he blurted out. "THAT'S the plain one..."

POST SCRIPT: Plain or not—I wish there was one in my nea "Future"...

Gearnie Daniels, your JEWEL TEA man for Daly City, has a re hot item for mothers and daughters—fine broadcloth blouses at $1.9 —and believe it or not, the tails are long enough that they don't pul out from under your skirt band! Drop him a line at 244 Citrus Ave and ask for his clothes catalogue!

"Joe" Figueras of the SERRA FURNITURE store on Junipero Serra Blvd., wins the BEST BARGAIN BUYS race hands down this week...

"If anyone wants to save money—I'll do it for them. And" say Joe, "if my mark down prices still keep you from getting what you want—JUST MAKE ME AN OFFER! I'll probably take it!"

POST SCRIPT: Items noted in passing were a THREE tier utility table at $7.50 which I have seen everywhere for $12.50—A "Santa Clara" brand apartment house stove with fiber-glass insulated ove for only $79.00—a saving of at least $30.00—and a nest of bleached oak T. V. tables (three) for which I have already "made my offer." These buys are real buys and the selection is wide—so drop in fo that table you've been wanting—or needing—you'll never get i for less!

DAPHNE time is Springtime around the Bay area, but why no grow your own? F. Figone of the Broadmoor Floral Garden on Juni pero Serra Blvd. has beautiful bushes of the stuff for planting a only $3.75—large ones, too!

"Hill & Hill" and "Glenmore" straight Kentucky bourbons are on the skids this week at GEROLD'S liquor store on Top of the Hill with a selling price of only $4.49—each fifth, of course! This elim inates the last liquor tax raise and presents an interesting way to spend the evening between now and March 15—huh?

Miniature mailbox in the window of SHAW'S Broadmoor stor is not for billets doux—It is just to remind you customers tha SHAW'S will mail its candies anywhere—anytime! Good ice crean they have, too!

BILL AND FLORENCE RUBINO, new owners of LESLIE'S DRESS SHOP in Broadmoor, have big plans for a complete chang of stock in the very near future, BUT meantime they are planning a CLEARANCE SALE with everything in sight reduced in price—some as much as 50%!! All bras, girdles will be SACRIFICED sinc he plans to change lines in these garments...sounds good, doesn't it? POST SCRIPT: Readers taking a copy of this paper into the stor will receive special PRE-sale consideration!

YOUR LIBRARY

March 10 to 16 Proclaimed Library Week Throughout The Daly Citq Area

Thanks to the cooperation of the city council and City Manager Dan Andersen, March 10-16 has been officially proclaimed Library Week in Daly City.

Library week will be observed all over California for the purpose of informing people that the library can fill their needs for all kinds of reading material. The slogan this year, "Something For Everyone" emphasizes the point that no matter what your interests the library has something for YOU.

A special library week is designated to call public attention to the many services offered by the free public libraries. These tax supported institutions found in small communities as well as in more populous areas, have or will endeavor to secure any book or materials needed by local patrons.

Library Week is just the time for you to get an inside view of your free public library. Remember it offers something for everyone, for the toddlers, for children, for the teen-ager, for the adults. You pay taxes for your library, so why not get to know about it and use it? Your library card is a passport to a vast amount of information for study or "just for fun." Book,s magazines and reference assistance are but a few of the services available at the public library.

Make a memo now to stop in at your Public Library next week. During California Library Week discover for yourself the wealth of practical information in print. Library service is free to any resident of Daly City.

Friends, the library is YOUR library. YOU support it, and all of its services are directed toward YOUR pleasure. During Library Week why not stop in at 6351 Mission street and see what the local library can offer you? Set aside the week to get acquainted with your Daly City Public Library.

California Library Week Proclaimed

WHEREAS, the continued strength of our democracy depends on an informed and enlightened people, and

WHEREAS, the use of books is one of the most effective means of disseminating information, and

WHEREAS, the public library in Daly City as elsewhere, has proven itself a vital force in the social, spiritual, and practical life of the community by fostering knowledge and progress, and stimulating good reading, now

THEREFORE, I, Mayor of the City of Daly City, do designate the week of March 10 through 16, 1952, as California LIBRARY WEEK, and so urge the observance in all parts of the city.

PAUL GREEN,
Mayor

George Wheeler States Campaign For Council Seat

As an independent candidate for City Council, I have the opportunity to clarify my position thru the courtesy of The Record, our hometown newspaper.

I have a background of 30 years residence in Daly City and have always devoted a great portion of my time in the interests of our city and county affairs as well as holding office in No. 961 Ship Painters Union from 1942 to 1945. At the present time, I am a member of No. 1146 Painters Union and an appointed delegate to the San Mateo County Labor League for Political Education which office I have held for the past 6 years.

I was twice a candidate for Democratic Central Committee from the First Township and was elected both times, receiving over 5,500 votes at each election.

Sheriff Earl Whitmore appointed me to his reserve officers corp and I have completed 187 hours of training which includes first aid and law enforcement.

In local affairs, I served as a member of the Recreation Commission under Mayor Battye in 1947-48 when the first May Day Celebration was inaugurated and the Halloween Parties were held at the local schools with the cooperation of the merchants and the Parent Teachers Assn.

I was also instrumental in reorganizing the Daly City Merchants Association and the Daly City Rod & Gun Club, because I more than realize the importance of local organizations thru my affiliation with the Fraternal Order of Eagles No. 1848 during the last 30 years.

You voters must realize that I do not take credit as an individual but as just one factor in a cooperative effort to assist city functions and further the interest of our citizens in local affairs.

Daly City has been placed in a detrimental light insofar as City Council action and policy has brought nationwide adverse publicity to our community.

In future issues of THE RECORD I shall attempt to enumerate these factors and provide constructive criticism so that the voters will have clear cut issues upon which to base their decision at the polls on April 8th.

—George Wheeler

Daly City Doctor Speaks At Meeting

Dr. Ivan T. Budaeff, Daly City physician and member of the Lions Club, was speaker at Wednesday's meeting here. He talked on his personal recollections of Russia, where he lived until 1920.

Next week's speaker will be Elmer A. Robinson, mayor of San Francisco, it was announced. A lady's day also is planned for next Wednesday.

Members this year who still have perfect attendance records include Joseph Bell, Jr., R. L. Crawe, Jr., Lynn Downs, Elio Fontana, Stanford Hannah, Thomas Laramie, Ira C. Neville, Walter Rector, Lloyd Selmi, Rudy Wolmuth, Ed Weisenburger and Hal Willis.

Elio Fontano, past president, has classified for a five year perfect attendance pin from Lions International.

Thirty members were present at this week's session.

Colma Youth Injured

Larry Anderson, eight, of 110 Hillside boulevard, Colma, suffered minor injuries recently when his bicycle ran into the open door of a car driven by Richard T. Randall, 18, of San Francisco.

Randall had stopped his car at Hillside boulevard and Chester street, and a passenger opened a door as the boy was passing the car.

Entertainment was furnished by representatives of the Dodge Motor Co., who presented movies.

Car Noises

If your car develops an abnormal sound or noise, don't let it go unattended. Prompt attention to correcting the cause of the noise will prevent you from having it develop into serious trouble, says the California State Automobile Association, and may also save you considerable expense.

Women who enlist in the WAC and WAF are offered the same opportunities available to men.

OBITUARY

DON RIGLER

Funeral services for Don Rigler, 59, who died Saturday at Ft. Miley Hospital, were held Tuesday noon at the W. C. Lasswell and Co. mortuary.

Rigler, who was born in Indiana, was a teamster for the Mipro Metal Products in San Francisco, and lived at 123 Vista Grande avenue in Daly City.

Services were under the auspices of the South San Francisco Lodge No. 212, F&AM, and a service Tuesday evening was conducted by the Veteran Fireman's Association of Daly City. Interment followed in the Golden Gate National cemetery, San Bruno.

Rigler was a member of the South San Francisco Lodge, F&AM, the Daly City Fire Department, Company No. 2, the Widows and Orpans Association of the Daly City Fire Department, the Veteran Fireman's Association, and the Vista Grande Aerie 1848, F.O.E.

He is survived by his wife, Marie; the following children, William and Allen Rigler, and Mrs. Diane Dawe; a brother, Clifford Rigler; four sisters, Mrs. Merle Gosch, Mrs. Lottie Morgansen, Mrs. Doris Bradshaw, Mrs. Clare Johnson; and five grandchildren.

JAMES FAULKNER

Funeral services for James Edward Faulkner, 81, a retired farmer, were held Monday at 8 a.m. in the W. C. Lasswell and Co. mortuary. Faulkner died February 29. The Rosary was said Sunday at 8 p.m., and Requiem Mass was celebrated at 8:30 a.m. Monday in Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church.

Interment in St. Michael's Catholic cemetery, in Livermore, Calif., followed funeral services.

Faulkner is survived by four sons, James B., Walter E., Joseph F., and Lawrence V. Faulkner; two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Powers and Mrs. Dorothy Anderson; a sister, Mrs. Mary Maloney, 13 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

MARY LOUISE VARNI

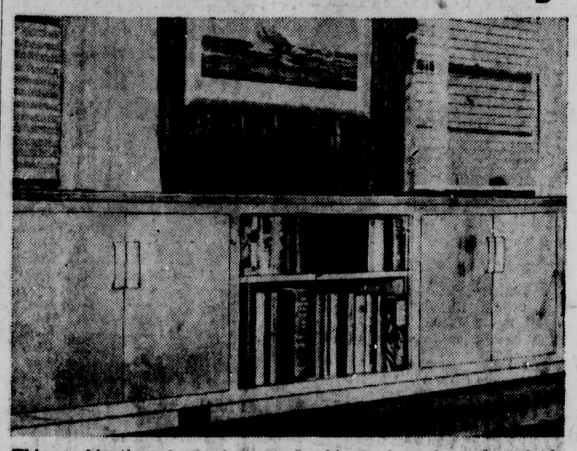
Funeral services were held today, March 6, for Mary Louise Varni, 72, of 32 Price street, in the Valente, Marini, Perata and Co. chapel. Requiem High Mass was celebrated in Holy Angels Church in Colma, and entombment was in the Holy Cross Mausoleum.

Mrs. Varni, who died Monday, was a native of San Francisco. She was the dearly beloved wife of the late James Varni, loving mother of Alfred Ernest, Lawrence, James, Richard and Mae Varni, Angelina Nava, Elsie Belli and Anita Granucci; beloved sister of Mrs. Eugenia Assalino; survived by 10 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Obey Stop Signs

Obey arterial stop signs at all times, advises the National Automobile Club. That does not mean merely slowing down, quickly shifting into second gear, and then dashing off again. The signs say "Stop" and are put there for safety's sake. And for his own sake each motorist should come to a full stop before proceeding on his way.

Built-ins Suit Modern Living



This combination of a bookcase and cabinets shows how charmingly hardwood plywood built-in furniture fits into a modern living room.

Built-in furniture has become a mark of the most livable new American homes. Built-ins are liked because they suit the easy, casual manner of living that many people have adopted during the last few years.

Among favorite kinds of built-in furniture are cabinets, cupboards, closets, bookcases, shelves, desks, radio and phonograph cabinets, tables, benches, storage walls, counters, bunks, dressing tables, bars, bins, and racks for toys, magazines, towels, phonograph records and sports equipment.

Built-ins are popular for their attractiveness as well as for functional suitability. They usually are made in clean-lined designs that appeal to the modern taste. The hardwood plywood of which they are often constructed has always been prized for its beauty and decorative fitness.

Hardwood plywood is faced with wood veneer, which adds the attractiveness of wood grain figuring and color to a home interior. Woods veneers are cut to bring out the best-looking grain figures.

Some advantages of hardwood plywood are that it resists warping and swelling and maintains its balanced construction and dimensional stability. It can be nailed close to the edge without splitting. The smooth surface cleans easily. Occasional wiping with a soft cloth and periodic waxing usually are all that is required.

Today's Fashions

NEW SILHOUETTE AND NEW FABRICS DRAMATIZE THE "ROMANTIC" IN SPRING FASHIONS

Fabrics with surface interest—such as fleeces, ribbed wools, tweeds, flannels—tailored with conscious romantic styling, inspire a "big spark of something different" in coats and suits for spring. The three garments shown here, styled by Betty Rose, typify the new silhouette and the new spring fabrics. Colors, too, are exciting. Neutrals and bright pastels in coats are favorites. They harmonize with the browns, navies and golds of suits. The little coat on the left, popular in peach, shrimp, gold, pink and lilac, with deep-cuffed sleeves and pockets and square-buttoned, notched tuxedo front, portrays the graceful lines of the new spring tailoring. The soft-to-the-touch fleece adds feminine warmth. The same basic features—romantic styling and fabrics with surface interest—are especially prominent in the full-length coat. They are dramatized in the coat on the right. Here is sweeping contour which complements, with its single-button closure, bold worsted plain in gay spring colors. And the tailoring of the new spring suits is in harmony with coat stylings. Feminine lines of the Betty Rose suit in the center, accented by notched collar, turn-up pockets, arched hipline and full skirt, bespeak all that is alluring and romantically sophisticated. Rich texture of the yarn-dyed worsted again complements the styling.

"I REMEMBER"
BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Lemuel Sterling, Mendon, Ohio: I remember when a boy I sat on the corn planter and checked the corn by the horse's step. That horse would step the same distance every time, and I could check so accurately that you could plow the corn both ways.

From S. I. McGinnis, Culloden, W. Va.: I remember when we would dig out a hole under the red hot embers in the fireplace and put in some big Irish potatoes and cover them until they baked.

From Mrs. E. S. Ruff, Cincinnati: I remember when wheat and oats were threshed by a wood-heated engine with men to throw the grain up. It was tied in bundles and cut with a cradle, sharpened by a small, board paddle treated with tar and sand. The wood and water for the engine were hauled a day before the threshing.

From C. E. Pleas, Chipley, Fla.: In those days buxom maidens took a hand in the art of reaping the grain and often outdid the best man on the job.

From E. E. Meredith, Fairmont, W. Va.: Do you remember when we could hardly wait to get the latest copy of "Nick Carter," "Buffalo Bill", "Frank Reade", or some other nickel novel; when we put vaseline on patent-leather shoes to keep them from cracking; when losing a penny under the old board walks was a tragedy?

From the Old Cuss, Chicago: I remember when the proper young lady would not think of going swimming without her stockings. She did not look so proper, however, in the water with them on.

(Mail your memories to THE OLD TIMERS, Box 340, Frankfort Ky.)

Park Correctly

Here's a safety tip from the California State Automobile Association: When you're parking your car on a busy street, look behind you for oncoming traffic, then back into the space at the curb. Learning how to park properly speeds up the flow of traffic.

High Production Of Asphalt Roofing Seen for 1952

Despite the predicted decline in new home construction, a high volume of maintenance work is expected to make asphalt roofing production in 1952 at least as great as in the record-breaking years of 1950 and 1951, according to the Asphalt Roofing Industry Bureau, a trade association.

Approximately 90 percent of all the roofing material now used in the United States is asphalt roofing. Production in 1951 was about equal to that in 1950, when nearly 87,000,000 squares were shipped from roofing mills. A square is enough material to cover 100 square feet.

Bearing out the opinion that home maintenance and remodeling will continue at a high rate is the National Industrial Conference Board's report that "almost 46 percent" of the homes in the United States are more than 30 years old.

Maintenance and remodeling normally require almost two-thirds of all the asphalt roofing produced. Asphalt shingles are favored by home-owners because of their economy, fire-resistance, color, and ease of application as well as for their long life and weatherproofing qualities.

Opportunities for advancement in the Army and Air Force are better now than they ever have been.

Even with the higher rates P. G. and E. has had to ask for . . . typical household

Gas and electric bills will still be smaller than in 1938!

BILL
for 100 kilowatt-hours of electricity and 100 therms of gas
for a home in a typical California city:

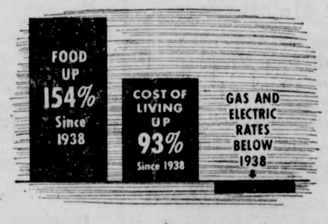
In February 1938 . . . . . $9.34

At proposed rates $8.90

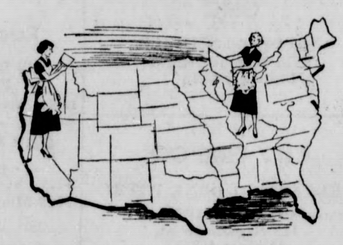
Today: $8.25

Since early 1938, P. G. and E. home rates have been cut sharply in five separate years . . . in April 1938, in 1939, 1940, 1943 and 1946! That brought rates way down. They were raised only moderately during the last three years. Now, with continued pressure of rising taxes, wages and equipment costs, we've had to apply to the California Public Utilities Commission for new electric rates—increased rates to provide sufficient earnings to continue to attract the new capital required to meet the service demands of our customers. But even the increase we're asking won't bring your typical gas and electric bill up to what it was for the same use in 1938!

P. G. and E. wage rates are up 114% for weekly and daily employees. In 1938 our taxes were $17 million—last year they were $66 million. Yet our present domestic rates are far below the 1938 level. While rates must be raised, the P. G. and E. bill for a typical home will still be less than in 1938.



Everything else you buy costs more than in 1938. And P. G. and E. pays more for the things it buys, too. A power pole that cost $10 in 1938 now costs $25. A line truck has gone up from $2,134 to $4,834. We can't go on giving good service unless we can adjust our rates to help meet higher costs.



Gas and Electricity will still be cheap in California under the higher rates we've asked for. As a matter of fact, the typical P. G. and E. residential bill for gas and electricity in a California city will still be about ⅓ less than the average of the bills in cities of similar size outside California.

Can you think of anything else you buy that costs less than in 1938? . . . gas and electricity are big bargains!
